SMOKE POURED FROM THE WINDOWS of the J. C. Penney Co. store on E. 5th St. during the height of a fire which hit just before opening time this morning. The blaze was confined to a stockroom on the fourth floor. Here, firemen manipulate the aerial ladder to break windows to allow the smoke and heat to escape so firemen inside could get to the area.

Penney Fire Loss Mainly From Water

Blaze Confined To Stockroom On 4th Floor Of Building

Fire hit the top floor of the J. C. Penney Co. department store at 119 E. 5th St. just before opening time this morning, resulting in heavy water damage.

Firemen said the damage could reach $25,000, although George F. Mueller, manager, did not make an estimate. He said there was a "tremendous amount of water damage" to stock.

Most of the damage resulted from the store's sprinkler system rather than from the blaze itself.

The blaze started in a stockroom in the front section of the fourth floor in a shelf of blankets and clothing. Asst. Chief James Pelley said the fire apparently had been smoldering for some time.

Firemen were first summoned by store personnel but a few moments later, the sprinkler system was activated by the heat, sounding an alarm on the street and someone else immediately phoned the department.

Pelley and two other men stationed at Central Station responded to the alarm at 8:38 with the aerial truck. The two firemen entered with airpicks to determine if anyone remained inside and Pelley used the aerial ladders to break the top windows to permit the heat and smoke to escape.

When they first arrived, firemen were told that three men still might be on the top floor. Firemen said there is a possibility a cigarette was left lying on one of the shelves, touching off the blaze.

Firemen then tossed the burning merchandise to the street. When the sprinklers let go, store personnel immediately started moving merchandise to protect it from the water.

Firemen from the North Side Station also were called and laid a 1½-inch line inside the store. But Pelley said only about 500 gallons of water was pumped by the firemen.

Henderson Will Seek 3rd Term In Irondale

Mayor Quenton Henderson of Irondale has filed with the Jefferson County Election Board to seek a third term in non-partisan voting Nov. 7.

Sales manager of the Golden Star Dairy Co., he is a member of the Masonic Lodge and the Irondale Methodist Church.

Irondale also will elect a clerk-treasurer, six members of Council and a Board of Public Affairs. Seven are expected to file for the Council seats.

Police Hold 3 For Burglary Of City Home

A 20-year-old man and two juveniles, 16 and 17, were taken into custody Wednesday night in connection with the July 17 burglary of a vacationing man's home in which a wide variety of loot was taken, including two guns, two radios and 22 books of trading stamps, police reported.

The adult, Kenneth Hutchinson of Lincoln Ave., was charged with receiving and concealing property stolen from the home of Arch Pinkerton, 913 Florence St. The two boys, accused of perpetrating the burglary, will be referred to Juvenile Court, police said.

Hutchinson, taken into custody at 9:30 last night in LaCroft by Lt. Thomas A. Walker and Patrolman K. H. Mooney, admitted that he had received a radio and a pair of roller skates taken from the Pinkerton home, officers said. The two items were valued at a total of $55, police reported.

Hutchinson pleaded guilty to the charge today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who gave him a suspended 90-day jail term and ordered him to pay the costs in the case. If an order for restitution is part of the penalty given the boys in Juvenile Court, Hutchinson must pay his proportionate share, the judge said. Suspension of the sentence also is conditioned on future good behavior, the judge warned.

Hutchinson led Lt. Walker to the spot where he had discarded the property, police said. The radio had been abandoned over a hillside on Shadydale Ave. and the roller skates were found in a clump of weeds in an isolated spot at Chester, police said.

Pinkerton left on vacation July 16 at 5 a.m. and returned last Saturday, police said. Entry was gained by cutting a screen and then opening a kitchen window which was not locked, police said. Inside the house, the intruders pried open a gun cabinet to remove a .32-caliber automatic pistol and a .22-caliber target pistol with holster, belt and ammunition, officers said.

Of the 22 books of trading stamps stolen, 11½ were recovered, police said. Seven of the books had been exchanged for merchandise.

Shaker Heights Called Wealthiest U.S. Town

CLEVELAND (AP) — Suburban Shaker Heights is the wealthiest community in the country, according to a research team from House & Garden Magazine.

The team, which recently spent more than a week in the suburb, said average income of its residents is $27,150.

Mayor Wilson G. Stapleton estimated Shaker's worth as more than $400 million, the researcher said.

France Snubs U.N. Aide In His Survey Of Bizerte Trouble

TUNIS (AP)—U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld left for New York today after a three-day on-the-spot study of the explosive Bizerte crisis. He did not hide his bitterness at a French snub.

Sources close to Hammarskjöld said he was particularly annoyed by the refusal of Vice Adm. Maurice Amman, French commander of the Bizerte base, to see him. Amman said he acted on orders from Paris. The French government earlier accused the secretary-general of showing favoritism toward Tunisia.

Hammarskjöld told newsmen he was concerned by what he described as French refusal to withdraw from the base after a ceasefire.

"You know my reaction," he said. "I believe that now I have a complete picture of the situation." "Are you optimistic?" a newsman asked.

"I am," Hammarskjöld replied. "In this world you have to be an optimist."

Hammarskjöld left aboard a special plane for Rome where he is to take a commercial airliner for New York.

Pursuing his customary policy of uncommunicativeness to newsmen, the U.N. secretary-general said nothing about any recommendations he might be taking back to the Security Council. The council is expected to meet soon after his return for further discussion.

Petitions On Tax Vote To Be Filed By Friday

Petitions seeking a vote at the Nov. 7 general election on an initiative ordinance to repeal the city income tax law are expected to be filed by Friday afternoon with City Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate by Trades and Labor Council.

Joseph A. Winters, secretary-treasurer of Trades Council, has obtained the petitions from the office of Atty. George A. Aronson, where they were taken by the circulators for final checking. The attorney said his role was simply to draft the petitions before circulation to be certain they met legal requirements.

The auditor is required by law to hold the petitions 10 days for public inspection and determine, meanwhile, if they carry enough valid signatures to warrant a ballot place. If he finds the petitions proper, he is required to certify them to the County Election Board.

Diplomatic Activity In High Gear

U.S. Team Heads For Parleys With Western Groups

WASHINGTON (AP) — The diplomatic phase of President Kennedy's Berlin preparedness program picks up tempo today with the departure for Paris of a U.S. team headed by Assistant Secretary of State Foy D. Kohler.

In advance of Kohler's takeoff, Secretary of State Dean Rusk scheduled a midafternoon news conference at which reporters planned to ask about further steps in Kennedy's broad program of counter measures against the worldwide Communist threat.

Kohler and a half dozen aides will meet with diplomatic teams from Britain, West Germany and France to do advance work on the Western Big Four foreign ministers conference to be held in Paris August 5-8. Rusk leaves for the French capital next week.

At Paris, the Western foreign affairs chiefs will go over a broad range of the strategies aimed at keeping West Berlin out of Communist hands.

From Kennedy's standpoint, a major task was to get the North Atlantic Treaty allies to step up their defense efforts to the allies have responded favorably to Kennedy's ideas, but it remains to be seen what action they will take.

The President hoped that his increase of U.S. defense levels by $3,454,600,000 and 217,000 men would serve as inspiring leadership to the 14 NATO partners.

And as an added lever in working up a stiffer NATO defense, he has left vague the exact amount of total contribution the

Voters Back Constitution In Rhodesia

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP) — Southern Rhodesia's voters have endorsed a proposed new constitution for this British colony that gives Negroes a voice in Parliament for the first time but retains white rule.

Prime Minister Sir Edgar Whitehead, leader of the United Federal Party, heralded the outcome of the referendum Wednesday as a "victory over the extremists of both sides."

African nationalists, demanding Negro domination of the government, and the right-wing White Dominion Party, opposed to any relaxation of the color bar, bitterly fought the plan to give Negroes 15 of the 69 seats in the new Parliament.

The voting went off with only minor incidents after three days of rioting and demonstrations in

Castro Announces Plan For 'One Party' System

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba today winds up a mammoth four-day celebration of the eighth anniversary of Fidel Castro's revolution highlighted by Castro's announcement that all Cuban organizations will be merged into a single "United Party of Cuba's Socialist Revolution."

(Castro's announcement had been predicted several weeks ago and observers in the United States said the single party, when it is formed, would be dominated by the Communists.)

Cards Are Dusted Off

'How Are We In Draft?' Americans Ask Boards

By The Associated Press

Hundreds of thousands of small cards today were taken from desk drawers and the hidden recesses of wallets where they had lain unnoticed for months—even years.

President Kennedy Wednesday asked for more personnel in the armed forces, and overnight the most closely scrutinized card in the nation became the "notice of classification" issued by the Selective Service System.

Telephone calls, in some instances two score more than the normal number, began to flood the switchboards of draft boards in every state, county, city and hamlet.

The American male wanted to know just where he stood in the President's plans to beef up the armed forces.

Big Hike Seen For Hancock Assessments

Value Of Fiscal '61 Is $114,124,458, Up By $8,456,205

Personal property, real estate and public utilities in Hancock County have been assessed for fiscal 1961 at $114,124,458, Assessor Anthony (Tony) Leon announced today.

The total represents a substantial increase overall of $8,456,205, the assessor said.

Increases were listed in virtually all classes of property in the municipalities of Chester, New Cumberland and Weirton.

Largest increase, figures show, came in Class I personal property in Weirton, raised to $6,454,625 from the 1960 assessment of only $1,855,433.

The huge hike in Class I personal property in Weirton makes a total increase of $6,987,467 for the largest city in the county.

Weirton's total assessment is $90,738,850, compared to last year's $83,751,383.

New Cumberland also showed an increase in virtually all fields. The county seat was assessed for 1961 at $2,217,263, an increase of $435,963 over last year.

Chester was assessed at $6,031,645, up $241,445 from last year's $5,790,200.

A boost also was made in rural area assessments. The increase is $791,230. The 1961 assessment is $15,136,700, compared to 1960's figure of $14,345,470.

With the assessment figures compiled, county commissioners continue to work on shaping up the 1961-62 budget for operating county government. It is not expected until next month.

'Peak Readiness'

Fast Senate Action Seen For Kennedy's Program

Men, Money Bills Facing Speedy OK

McNamara Outlines Service Needs To Two Committees

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fast Senate action is in prospect for legislation requested by President Kennedy to put the armed forces in "peak readiness" to counter Communist threats to Berlin and other danger spots.

The Senate Armed Services Committee called Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to testify on a bill to permit the President to call up to 250,000 ready reservists to active duty for 12 months.

Also before the committee is a bill to authorize appropriation of $958,570,000 for aircraft, missiles, and naval vessels as part of the $3,454,000,000 additional funds requested for a buildup of U.S. military forces and for civilian defense.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., the committee chairman, told newsmen he knew of no opposition to either measure. He said he expected the committee to act on them later today and hoped the Senate would pass them Friday.

McNamara spent nearly four hours in a closed-door session with a Senate Appropriations subcommittee Wednesday, explaining the administration's plans for beefing up the nation's military might.

The program is geared primarily to increasing non-nuclear forces so that this country will have, as McNamara put it, "a great range of military alternatives" for meeting Soviet moves.

Over-all, the defense appropriation bill now asked by the administration for the fiscal year that began July 1 tops $46 billion.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee, said it plans to act on the bill Friday afternoon. The full committee is expected to act on it next Tuesday. Robertson said the bill probably will be brought up in the Senate toward the end of next week.

The House already has passed the defense money bill, but it acted before Kennedy's request for additional funds was submitted to Congress Wednesday.

Russell was joined by Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., senior GOP member of the Armed Services Committee, in introducing the measure to let the President,

Aides Report Defense Powers To Be Limited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top defense officials told Congress today they plan only limited use now of powers President Kennedy asked to call up 250,000 reservists or hold servicemen on duty for a year beyond the terms for which they volunteered or were drafted.

"We plan to use this authority sparingly," Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told the Senate Armed Services Committee at a closed door session.

Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., has said the committee may approve later today two of Kennedy's emergency requests for wide authority to deal with the Berlin crisis or any future Communist threats.

One would let the President call to immediate active duty any of the various groups of trained reservists during the next year, or hold necessary units and individuals now in the armed forces for extra 12 months of service.

The other would stamp approval on a $958,570,000 priority list of military hardware, including aircraft, missiles and ships.

McNamara said defense officials "are well aware of the disruptive effects and the hardships which such recalls to active duty

Probably one of the most common reasons for the calls to draft boards was requests to correct existing records of individuals.

Many called to remind Selective Service officials that they had become fathers one or more times since their latest visit to the draft board.

Others wanted the board officials to know that their mother or father, or an aged aunt or uncle had in recent months become a dependent.

Col. Frank J. Graf, deputy director of the Pennsylvania Selective Service System, said, "generally over the state people came in correcting records."

"Many men suddenly realized they had better bring their records up to date," he said. "Many queries were from married men with children, wanting to know if they will be called."

Defense Plan Veers From Nuclear War

U.S. Strategy Aims For 'Conventional' Military Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration does not preclude the possibility that atomic weapons might be used in limited wars, but its new mobilization program veers somewhat away from previous doctrine.

That doctrine, as adopted by the Eisenhower administration, was predicated largely on the invoking of atomic firepower to offset the military manpower advantage of the Communist camp.

The program outlined by President Kennedy and explained in detail to a Senate Appropriations subcommittee Wednesday by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is threaded with repeated references to augmenting weapons firing standard, conventional explosive.

McNamara says this is for the purpose of providing greater versatility, to give the U.S. military more choice in the arms it would use to cope with less than nuclear war.

Fundamentally, the worry of U.S. military men over extensive use on the battlefield of atomic weapons is that this might develop into all-out nuclear exchange between nations, on a strategic attack basis.

American ground forces are far outnumbered by those of the Soviet Union. The United States now has only 17 ground combat divisions—14 effective Army divisions and 3 Marine divisions. Five of the U.S. Army divisions are stationed with NATO forces in Europe. The Communists now have up to 150 divisions in Europe.

The Kennedy-McNamara program so far calls only for added military manpower to fill out the present 17 divisions, but the way may be open to build up to 19 divisions later.

Weirton Youth Feared Drowned Near Docks

NEW CUMBERLAND, W.Va. (AP)—A Weirton, W. Va., youth was missing and feared drowned in the Ohio River today. Hancock County sheriff's deputies said Harley Thompson, 16, was riding barrels in the river with some friends when he went under.

Dragging operations for four hours failed to recover the body Wednesday night, and the search resumed today. The scene was near the Weirton Steel Co. docks, and it was feared the boy may have been sucked under barges on the docks.

Deaths and Funerals

Illness Claims City Wife, 51

Mrs. Virginia Mae O'Hanlon, 830 Bradshaw Ave., wife of Glenn O'Hanlon, died Wednesday at 1:52 p. m. at City Hospital after a two-year illness. She was 51.

Mrs. O'Hanlon was born here May 24, 1910, daughter of the late Brady Wolfe and Bertha Diddle Wolfe. She was a lifetime resident and was a clerk at the City Market until four years ago.

Besides her husband, she leaves three sons, Richard M. O'Hanlon of Columbus, Leonard E. O'Hanlon and Robert W. O'Hanlon, both of East Liverpool; a daughter, Mrs. Glenda Hickman, and three brothers, Roy Wolfe, Clinton Wolfe and William Wolfe, all of East Liverpool; three sisters, Mrs. Laura Merchant of East Liverpool, Mrs. Frances Uhlworm of Midland and Mrs. Gertrude Sullivan of Alliance and 10 grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by the Rev. Paul Jones, a worker in the Pittsburgh Conference session at the Free Methodist campgrounds on Anderson Blvd. Burial will be in the Calcutta United Presbyterian Church Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening.

A. J. Pasquale

A Solemn High Mass will be sung for Anthony J. (Tony) Pasquale, 1501 Main St., Wellsville, Saturday morning at 10 at the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church by Fr. John Lyons. Burial will be in St. Elizabeth Cemetery in Wellsville.

Mr. Pasquale died Wednesday morning at Cleveland Clinic Hospital, where he had been a patient several weeks.

Friends may call at the Haugh Funeral Home in Wellsville this evening and Friday. Fr. Lyons will lead the reciting of the Rosary Friday at 8:30 p. m. at the funeral home.

James Wilson

EAST PALESTINE — James M. Wilson, 863 W. Martin St., died at 3:30 a.m. today at Salem City Hospital, where he had been a patient several days. He was 69.

A life-time resident of the city, he was born July 13, 1892, son of Thomas and Martha Mansfield Wilson. He was employed several years in the packing department of the former W. S. George Pottery Co. He was a member of the IBOP and the Eagles Lodge.

Surviving are a son, Carl Wilson of Youngstown and two sisters, Mrs. Clarence Bortner and Miss Lila Wilson, both of East Palestine.

Services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the Van Dyke Funeral Home by the Rev. Chalmers Goshorn. Burial will be in Glenview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Toronto Keger Lane Construction Started

TORONTO — Groundbreaking ceremonies were held Tuesday for the new Toronto Lanes, Inc., a modern, half-million dollar 16-lane bowling and recreation center to be located at Kaul Field in the north end.

The building will be 98-x-207 feet of modern design and will include a restaurant, snack bar, lounge, and locker and rest rooms besides the bowling lanes.

James J. Dyer, president of the Kaul Clay Co. of Toronto, is president of the newly formed association. His associates are Dr. Earl Rosenblum of Steubenville and William Wilson of the Hausfeld Electronics Supply Co.

The center is expected to be ready by early fall.

Tunisia

cussion of the crisis between France and Tunisia.

Hammarskjöld was rebuffed in an attempt to see the French commander in Tunisia, and the French foreign office said it would be useless for him to visit Paris. The French attitude marked a further deterioration in relations between France and the world organization, of which President Charles de Gaulle has grown increasingly contemptuous.

Hammarskjöld, who came here at the invitation of Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba, said he hoped "common sense and human wisdom" would prevent any further fighting around the French naval and air base at Bizerte.

De Gaulle's government, pointedly ignoring the U.N., said in a statement Wednesday night it wanted peace talks soon "between French and Tunisian authorities."

Hammarskjöld had written Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville complaining because France had not complied with the Security Council resolution calling for withdrawal of French troops that occupied Bizerte city.

Couve de Murville in reply noted Hammarskjöld's presence in Tunis at Bourguiba's invitation and said his letter "seems to me to expose the views of the Tunisian government." A government statement said the French forces would not quit Bizerte city — which lies astride the channel between the Mediterranean and the base — until peace is assured and the base's communications are guaranteed.

Tension continued in the battle-scarred city, where French gun emplacements ringed the walled Casbah still held by Tunisian troops. But after repeated warnings that a resumption of fighting was inevitable, appeared to be concentrating on diplomatic warfare.

The Tunisian government, long one of the staunchest allies of the West in the Arab world, underscored a swing away from the West.

Information Minister Mohamed Masmoudi made a point of announcing that Tunisia's relations with Red China were closer than ever. He emphasized that President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, once Bourguiba's bitter enemy, had promised aid.

Bourguiba's right-hand man, Bahi Ladgham, conferred with the Soviet ambassador to Tunisia.

Burglary

dise at the Loblaw Market on Dresden Ave., officers said.

Other loot at the Pinkerton home included another radio, a $5 bill and a bank book from the Potters Bank & Trust Co., police said.

Asked about his part in the entry, Hutchinson related this story to the court: The two boys told him of their intent to break into the house and invited him to participate, but he declined and said he didn't "want any part of it."

Meanwhile, one of the boys had obtained permission from his mother to stay at Hutchinson's home overnight. Following the burglary, the boys placed all the loot in Hutchinson's car without his consent. Later, they removed it, turning over to him the radio and the roller skates.

Hutchinson said he first threw away the roller skates and then disposed of the radio because he did not want to be involved in the case. The judge lectured him for not reporting the crime to authorities.

The judge commented that Hutchinson apparently disposed of the skates immediately because they were of no use to him, but he held onto the radio until he heard the two boys who gave it to him were facing the possibility of arrest.

Mishap Hurts Boy On Street

A 7-year-old boy is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered Wednesday afternoon at 1:15 when he ran into the path of an auto on Avondale St. 50 feet north of Morton St.

David Lee Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Morgan, 1000 Avondale St., was struck by a 1958 two-door sedan driven by Mrs. Bernice W. Foester, 801 Bank St., police said. He was admitted to the hospital with a possible scalp injury.

Mrs. Foester told police she was driving north on Avondale when the boy came onto the street from in front of a vehicle parked on the east side, then ran backwards across the street. She said she pulled to the left in an attempt to avoid striking the boy, but he was hit by the right front fender of the car.

Mrs. Foester's account was corroborated by a witness, police said. Patrolman W. E. McDaniel investigated. The boy was taken to the hospital in an ambulance.

Palestine Boy Hurt Seriously By Auto

EAST PALESTINE — A 4-year-old city youth is in "serious" condition today at Salem City Hospital with injuries suffered when hit by a car Wednesday afternoon about 5 on E. Martin St., about a block from his home.

The driver did not halt, but was traced and picked up at his Youngstown home two and a half hours later.

Johnny Milnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Milnes, 503 E. Clark St., suffered severe head injuries when struck by the car as he stepped off the curb on E. Martin St.

The child was knocked about 20 feet by the impact and the driver, later identified as Richard O'Brien, 43, of 2926 South Ave., Youngstown, fled.

Police said the car skidded 37 feet before hitting the child. The boy was going to a nearby store to purchase candy.

O'Brien was driving a 1957 Buick with Pennsylvania license plates. Witnesses provided police with a description of the car and part of the number. They said he turned toward Pennsylvania after leaving the scene.

Wallace Dilworth, acting police chief said O'Brien was drunk when arrested at his home. He said he couldn't answer many questions but did admit hitting the boy.

His car was damaged on the right front, the point of impact, authorities said. O'Brien was identified through East Liverpool connections. A part-time musician, he once played with an East Liverpool group.

McCloy Ends Soviet Talks

MOSCOW (AP) — President Kennedy's disarmament chief, John J. McCloy, returned today from a conference with Premier Khrushchev about starting new international disarmament talks.

"We are still hopeful that we can work out something that will be constructive," said McCloy, who has been trying without success for more than a month to win Soviet agreement on the makeup, agenda and timing of new East-West arms talks.

McCloy went to Sochi Tuesday to talk with Khrushchev at his Black Sea vacation villa.

He said it would be "a little bit early to make any predictions" on whether the United States and the Soviet Union will be able to take part in new arms talks by Aug. 1. That is the date set in a U.N. resolution.

"But," McCloy said, "the current talks will terminate before the end of July."

In talks with Soviet negotiator Valerian A. Zorin here and in Washington, McCloy has found the Soviet Union insistent on opening major arms discussions between the two big powers. McCloy has refused to negotiate on matters of substance without the presence of America's allies and insisted on talking only about setting up a large-scale conference.

Another stumbling block is Moscow's insistence on expanding the 10-nation disarmament committee that failed to make progress in Geneva a year ago. It was composed of five Western and five Communist nations, but the Soviet Union now wants to add five neutral nations. The United States objects to this although it is willing to expand the negotiating group.

Tass news agency said the talks were held in a friendly atmosphere, but most diplomats here doubted they had been successful. Zorin also sat in on the talks, conducted for a time on the terrace of Khrushchev's villa. McCloy said they lasted from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday, with time out to go swimming.

McCloy told newsmen he was caught without any swim trunks, so the premier loaned a pair of his own to the New York banker-diplomat.

McCloy, who was America's first civilian high commissioner to postwar Germany, said he and Khrushchev also talked about Berlin but "I told him I was only giving the views of a private American citizen. The only thing I talked about officially is disarmament."

He said he is carrying no formal message from Khrushchev to Kennedy but "only the regards of the chairman (premier) to the President. That is all."

He said the sprinklers confined the blaze. Only the sprinkler on the one floor was activated, saving the remainder of the floors from heavy water damage. The system is set up so that all the sprinklers do not go off at once. Some water leaked through onto the lower floors, but the amount was considered rather small.

Employees brushed the water down the elevator shaft to the cellar. It will be pumped out by the city.

Firemen were credited with helping confine the blaze with their quick action although only three were on duty at Central.

West-bound traffic on 5th St. was routed down Washington St. to E. 4th St. to keep the area from being congested.

Heavy smoke poured from the upper windows, creating the appearance of a more serious fire. The store was able to open for business at 11:30 a.m. and will be open as usual tonight until 8:30.

Penney Co. Scheduled To Open 5 New Stores

NEW YORK — J. C. Penney Co. planned to open five stores today in Virginia, Pennsylvania, Minnesota and Kansas. New stores are located in Roanoke, Va. and Erie, Pa. The other three are relocations of existing outlets. They are in Salina, Kan., Minneapolis, Minn., and Covington, Va.

The company said stores in Marion, Ohio, Oxnard, Calif., and Duncan, Okla., also were scheduled to open additions during the day.

Bees have an air-conditioning system all their own. Fresh air is let into the crowded beehive by an ingenious method — some bees standing outside fanning air into the holes in the bottom of the hives, others just inside doing their share of fanning, and good circulation is thus provided.

The Spongers

Greece's colorful sponge-fishing industry is slowly fading away. Fewer youths are following their fathers to sea. The decline in divers, depletion of fishing grounds, foreign competition and use of artificial sponges have cut the annual harvest from a pre-war peak of 200 tons to perhaps 80 tons this year.

Bleak, rocky Kalymnos, the main base in the Aegean, once sent some 200 caiques manned by 2,600 spongers to sea for six months of the year. Today less than half the old fleet embarks.

But the spirit of the undertaking is undampened. The bells of 100 churches toll farewells on the May morning when the divers sail. Priests bless the boats, which are hardly different from those that plied the Mediterranean 2,000 years ago. Women dance in gay provincial costumes.

Then, as the broad-beamed caiques slowly circle the harbor in a farewell gesture and head south, the women tie on black kerchiefs which they wear until their men return in November from the dangerous expedition.

Some of the men do not come back: accidents claim them. Others who dive too deeply or stay down too long may be crippled by the "bends."

For several weeks the fishermen work Greek waters, then move south toward the North African coast. Some of the boats cross 4,000 miles of water before they start home.

The first national territory of the U.S. was the famed Northwest Territory, an area about the Great Lakes and between the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers. This territory included the present states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and part of Minnesota.

"We also plan to use the authority to extend the terms of service of military personnel to the minimum extent necessary," McNamara continued.

"We hope to restrict its use to only those personnel whose skills and experience are essential during the build-up phase—and for as short a period as possible.

"We also expect to make limited use of the authority to extend the training periods of certain selected reserve units."

The tooth of a shark is generally conceded to be the sharpest of any animal. Sharks vary in size from the dogfishes, about three feet long, to the basking shark, 35 to 40 feet long.

About 6,000 Americans perish in home fires every year, according to the National Fire Protection Association, and monetary losses last year passed the $1.5 billion mark.

The claim of being the father of the modern automobile has been advanced by two men. One is Joseph Cugnot, a Frenchman, who in 1769 constructed a steam-carriage running on three wheels. The American claimant is George B. Selden of Rochester, who in 1896 obtained a patent for a gas-engine automobile.

Spoiling For A Fight

Mark this oddity about events in Tunisia—that Tunisian troops now are being brought home from the Congo to fight the French. And the French, if they're not lucky, soon may find themselves fighting Communists too. The Communists may be Russia, or they may be Chinese, as many are in Cuba. Tunisia has sent word to all its embassies, including its embassy in Moscow, to welcome volunteers in its struggle to oust the vestiges of French colonialism at the French naval base at Bizerte. It will not be particular, it warns, if help is not forthcoming from the United Nations.

Tunisian troops were dispatched to the Congo when Communists were moving in to take advantage of chaos there after Belgium moved out. Tunisia is a member of the United Nations, which believes in co-operative security. It has counted on its friends to defend it in case of attack and, to show good faith, responded to the call to establish order in the Congo.

France, of course, will explain that it did not attack; that it defended. But its defense was a gross over-reaction. Instead of merely defending Bizerte, it attacked Tunis and killed and wounded a shocking total of Tunisians. And that is why Tunis now feels free to accept defenders wherever it finds them. It does not believe friends of France can be its friends too—not after the savage French reaction at Bizerte. The United States, for once, cannot think of this as an incident that could happen only on some other continent. It has a naval base in a nation that has been severing its ties with the United States. It, too, must expect that some day Fidel Castro, like Tunisia's Habib Bourguiba, will take action against its outpost in Cuba—the Guantanamo Naval Station. And when it reacts, it can expect that Cuba will issue a call for volunteers and they will be forthcoming—from every Communist country.

Cooling Of Southern Hospitality

When the Supreme Court begins its fall-winter term this year, it will have before it one of the most closely watched cases of a generation. The Wall Street Journal reports that inquiries from lawyers all over the country already are being received by the legalists who have prepared the case. The case was carried to the court by the Glidden Co. of Cleveland, in an attempt to overrule a Court of Appeals decision. The lower court said five former employees of the company should have been offered jobs when the company moved a plant from Elmhurst, N.Y., to Bethlehem, Pa. The employees' contention was that their seniority rights did not end when the company relocated its plant; that the rights were a "vested interest" that could not be annulled by the company. The company's contention was that the union representing the employees never had bargained for transferable seniority rights, therefore no rights existed after the plant was relocated. The most interested parties are not only the defendant and the plaintiff but hundreds of companies and hundreds of thousands of employees potentially affected by the efforts of southern states to lure northern factories with promises of free buildings, nominal taxes and nonunionized labor. If the Supreme Court upholds the rule that employees "going south" to take advantage of this kind of "southern hospitality" must offer jobs in the new location to workers they left behind them, the exodus of northern industry will come to a sudden halt. Not all northern employees would care to live in southern states, but if they had to be offered jobs there enough of them would go to take the zip out of this form of industrial movement. Columbus Next Stop Columbiana County should be well represented in the state contest at Columbus as the result of county 4-H competition this week at Salem. The friendly rivalry was intense in the various divisions and those who emerged as victors can be justifiably pleased with their achievements. Even greater achievements could be in the offing at Columbus. But regardless of the final results during the state fair, Columbiana County residents again have every right to be proud of the youngsters who wear the 4-H emblem.

Chester Bowles, Schoolmaster

A radio interview late last week in which the undersecretary of state, Chester Bowles, said the United States should learn a lesson from Cuba fits in with reports that have been coming out of Washington since Mr. Bowles' reported estrangement from the inside core of the Kennedy administration. The lesson that should be learned, he said, is that trouble always comes when feudal regimes which deny people their rights are encouraged. Cuba, he pointed out, was under Fulgencio Batista, whose regime was built up in part by the United States. Conditions continued to grow worse, until Fidel Castro came out of the mountains as a liberator. The ensuing revolt unsettled Cuban affairs so drastically the Communists then took over Castro in the name of the revolution—and that is where things are today. This kind of talking, or, as it was regarded by some people in the Kennedy administration, this kind of second-guessing is reported to have been the breaking point between Mr. Bowles and the Kennedy administration. The Bowles incident has taken a freakish bounce since it popped into the news. Those who never liked the man, himself, were quick to conclude he had fouled up his assignment as undersecretary of state. But it now is beginning to appear that Mr. Bowles wore out his welcome by being right. The United States did have a lesson to learn in Cuba: Do not throw in your lot with dictators. It had the same lesson to learn in the Dominican Republic, where it played footsie too long with Trujillo. But no one can state with certainty that it has learned the lesson — and the one man who says with certainty it should study harder is now reported to be on his way out of official favor.

The Once Over

Movie shows are featured in some jet planes and it is predicted they will be in 100 jets within few months. They will make sleep easier in flight for some travelers. Others will find flying less tedious. There will certainly be the loud boast. "I made coast-to-coast flight in one 'Gone With The Wind' and two Donald Ducks." Possible conversation: "Have a nice trip?" "No. The film was very bumpy. Once we fell 1,000 feet through a Buster Keaton." "I always get a booking on airline that never shows old pictures. I'll never forget a flight I once made on a line that flew the Rudolf Valentino route. Do you care much whether a plane has movies or not?" "No. I think it's okay as long as the company doesn't distribute buttered popcorn." "To me the popcorn would be better than the pictures. However, a movie in any airplane makes me nervous. I'm always afraid, when 2,000 feet up, that the heroine will fall out of the big love scene." "Movies on planes are here to stay. They will help kill time." "But suppose airplane films don't go over well?" "The airline can always give away free dishes."

IF NEW BROADWAY musical about P. T. Barnum is produced, will there be special matinees for rural Fat Lady Associations and Suburban Tattooed Women's Clubs? If it's done in true spirit of Barnum, acrobats will be signed as press agents, peanuts, pink lemonade and balloons will be distributed by usherettes; and actors may assemble at zoo to read morning-after reviews. We wouldn't be surprised to see advertisement for jumbo-sized orchestra and Wild Man of Borneo as conductor. "I have learned to my sorrow that the road of the crusader is no bed of roses," says George Albert, former president of bankrupt New Haven Railroad. No crusader can be late all the time, George. Baseball attendance having dropped heavily, Ford Frick thinks slow motion is to blame and is urging rules to cut delays through mound huddles, warm-up pitches and time wasted in pitching four balls instead of signaling batsman to take first for an intentional walk. This could help. But real causes of lower attendance are (1) fact fans can see games lying on sofa and watching TV instead of enduring traffic problems; (2) baseball is no longer number one entertainment. Thoroughbred races and trot tracks, automobile diversions, and numerous other outdoor activities have murdered the day when "Let's go to the ball game!" was routine suggestion, bringing immediate, "Why not?" This is an age when you can get exhausted just deciding what to do with leisure time. Baseball is no longer the big show. Too many clubs and too much territory hurt interest. You have to have an atlas. "I get lost trying to locate a club's whereabouts in the country as well as in the league standings," says Mortimer Topblower. Mr. Frick misses other factors that keep customers away. Nonstop parade of pitchers in and out of box has no box-office appeal. Crackdown on diamond fracas has almost eliminated one of baseball's chief appeals: the fans' yen for person-to-person, chin-to-chin combat. "Kill the ump!" is now considered uncouth, but it was once the outlet for genuine baseball enthusiasm. We can remember when a crowd left park if there hadn't been any punches thrown between ump's and players by the last of the fourth inning. THEY SAY AN OLD-TIMER, lingering at the grave of Ty Cobb long after most mourners had left, explained "I still think he may get up and tie the score." Republicans have named a woman, Dorothy Bell Lawrence, as candidate for Manhattan borough president. Glamour is all important on the island and women are increasingly dominant there. It could be that the GOP could twist this into a Miss Manhattan Island contest and win easily. Not much attention is ordinarily paid by public to male borough presidents and "I Like Dottie" buttons might help. Stephen B. Botsford, president of New Yorker magazine has resigned saying, "I am getting too old. He is 41. Maybe it goes to show what all those conferences do to a man's sense of age."

We Should Call Mr. K's Bluff

By Victor Riesel

PARIS After days of poring over confidential reports out of Moscow, there is only one conclusion. The Russians have developed a brand of poker as sensational as Russian roulette. They play this international poker with steel nerves. They always stand pat on a four flush, always bluff and apparently always win. They're desperate inside but play every outside hand out of strength they just don't have. And it's time to call a few hands—and then there'll be peace.

Victor Riesel

There have, for example, been a series of strikes—because so many skilled workers are so ill-housed, ill-fed, ill-clothed and fatigued from overwork, they just don't worry about the new hiring squad laws, or the "anti-social element" law. Under this statute, Communist party officials call a block (street or neighborhood meeting), charge the dissident or striker with being socially undesirable and exile him to Siberia or to a distance of not less than 60 miles from his home.

NONETHELESS, there have been big strikes at Siberian hydroelectric plants, longshoremen stoppage on the Odessa docks, constant slowdowns in coal and uranium mines, circulation of protests in East German steel mills and truly herculean sabotage in Hungarian plants and collective farms.

Many shortages and state pressure for long hours and speed-up forced the Soviet high command not too long ago to promise Russian workers a shift from a six to a five-day week and minimum wage of about $10 a week, or at the official rate, this could come to $25 a week.

Now mark this, the promise of pie in the sky came from such top Khrushchev aides as Deputy A. P. Volkov, chairman of the State Committee of the USSR Council of Ministers for Labor and wages, and V. V. Grishin, chairman of the All-Union Central Council of Trade Unions (AUCCTU).

BEHIND THESE promises were the official decisions of the 21st Congress of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union.

This means that chairman of the board N. S. Khrushchev himself is disturbed by the unrest and the possibility of new strikes such as shook East Berlin and Posnan some years ago.

Reports to the intelligence services of most Western nations indicate that he has beefed up his secret police. This police force is not yet the GPU of old Stalin but its files on dissenters are being beefed up along with it.

The purges are coming, make no mistake about that. Why? Because Soviet industry does not move nearly as swiftly as Mr. Khrushchev's tongue or unsheathed shoes.

Pick any industry except the space ship business. Be it chemicals or milk, including goats. By our standards they're 25 years behind the times.

Look at the railroads. They are the guts of the Soviet economy, because virtually everyone inside Russia moves on trains, when they move.

There's a report on this Czarist-vintage transport system in our government files, just as there is over at the SDEC (French CIA) here.

PITY, IT IS, that no one bothers to tell our people about the creaky Russian transport system which would fall apart during the strain of a war, even a brush-fire war. And all the time our folks think the Soviets are nine feet tall.

This report reveals that we have 220,000 miles of rails to the Soviet's 75,000—and they have twice the distance to cover. Furthermore, the Red railroads are predominantly single track with virtually no mechanization except around the big cities.

We have four track systems for thousands of miles—and at one point in Pennsylvania there are at least 100 tracks for switching and recouping purposes. Furthermore, no one has yet seen a push button, automated freight yard inside Russia.

Though practically everything the Russians need to transport moves on rails, the report I have just read states that the Kremlin does not seem to have even a single steel box car. How is Khrushchev going to overtake us in this field—with one of those hand rail gadgets Mack Sennett loved to use in the old two reels?

SO THE RUSSIANS just don't permit anybody to quit. The officialdom therefore keeps the Ministry of Railroad Transport as a quasi-military system.

All railroad workers are in uniform—military type—and not just our own sort of conductor's outfit. Those in the lower depths—ranks, I suppose I should say—must salute their superiors.

Now multiply the railroad story by 50 other industries. Add to this the fact that there just is no automation except in showplaces.

Millions of workers are tied to their jobs at subsistence wages—and sometimes not even that. That's why there's unrest, strikes, slowdowns. That's why N. S. Khrushchev is using the old hard sell technique to bluff us—we the people who invented Madison Ave.

We don't have to fight him. Let's just call his bluff once. Then he'd have to show his four flush.

Russians don't go away mad. They are realists. They'd stop bluffing. Then we would really talk about everlasting peace.

The Pound In Trouble

By Joseph R. Slevin

This is a season of grave danger for Britain's pound sterling.

To use blunt but accurate words, there is a sterling crisis. The United Kingdom's monetary reserves are falling steadily and the British will have to make a massive, disciplined effort to weather the storm.

High international financial officials agree that the current free world has faced since it was rocked by a series of economic explosions during 1956 and 1957.

There is but one comforting difference between the two periods and that is that Britain is the only major industrial country in difficulty this time. In 1956-57, the French, Danes, Dutch and Japanese were floundering, too.

But the British problems are deeper and more unyielding than they were then, and more heroic measures will be required if there is to be a happy solution.

The outward evidence of Britain's difficulty is a continuing deficit in its balance of payments. The United Kingdom is spending more money abroad than it is earning.

THE BRITISH may not be living extraordinarily well by American standards, but, as a nation, they are living beyond their means.

The UK payments deficit amounted to a substantial $1 billion in 1960 and it is continuing to run at the same dangerous pace in 1961.

The pound has been under relentless speculative attack since early March. The currency speculators know that Sterling is in trouble and they are gambling that Britain will have to cut the value of the pound below its current exchange price of $2.50.

Devaluation is the road that Britain took at the climax of the 1949 currency crisis but the judgment of high British and other financial officials is that devaluation is not the proper solution this time.

Instead, they contend that devaluation is a drastic remedy that should be used only as a last resort. Their judgment is that devaluing the pound would be a devastating confession that Britain is in incapable of taking the painful but essential internal measures that are required to regain economic health.

What the British must do is export more — to increase their earnings and import less — to reduce their overseas spending.

British industries must produce more goods, better goods, and cheaper goods.

THE GOVERNMENT of Prime Minister Macmillan is preparing to take the orthodox steps that customarily are prescribed for a country that is living too well.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — John S. Clark, dispatch clerk at the postoffice in Wellsville, retired after 25 years of service.

Helen and Mildred Young, daughters of Thomas L. Young of Chester, sailed from New York City for a six-week visit in Europe.

Mrs. Ila Marshall Cronin, Mrs. Stella Burns, Mrs. Grace Dudder and Miss Sara McMillen were initiated into McCoy Circle 33, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—W. A. Betz defeated Bill Kelly, 1 up, in a first division match of the Hall Memorial championship at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Miss Margaret Kelly was named Sunday School superintendent and church treasurer of the Oakland Free Methodist Church.

Ed House was elected president of the Mary Leighton Class of the Wellsville Methodist Church.

The Common Market

By David Lawrence

Arguments Rage Pro And Con

The newspapers throughout Europe are discussing continuously nowadays the prospects of a "common market" for all countries. Important conferences of the top officials of governments are being held to determine whether all or some of the Western countries will bind themselves together in a kind of free-trade community. Britain will meet soon with six associates, known as "The Seven," to decide whether to join another association known as "The Six."

In the first group, which is called the European Free Trade Area, are Britain, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Austria, Switzerland and Portugal.

In the second group, known as the European Economic Community or Common Market, are France, West Germany, Italy, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

It is doubtful, however, whether the average man in Europe or in the United States has yet come to realize what all this maneuvering on tariffs can mean to him in the long run.

Proponents say it spells prosperity. Opponents fear that it offers to the country that emerges as the strongest economic power a chance to dominate Europe, and that aspirations for political leadership are behind the drive for an economic union.

As an ideal which aims to reduce tariff barriers everywhere, the principle of a "common market" has been received with noticeable enthusiasm in several countries of Europe.

But when it comes to practical application, the whole discussion as to which additional countries shall join or abstain, and what is to happen after a new member joins, seems reminiscent of the tariff headaches which the Congress of the United States has experienced for decades.

The problem essentially is the same except that different countries—each of which is sovereign—are discussing how the "common market" concept will be applied. It is like the pressure for tariff protection that comes from individual industries or from certain sections of the United States when tariffs or import quotas are discussed.

The British, who have tended to play a lone game, indicate that they intend to join the "common market" of the continental countries but a final decision in London cannot be made without paying substantial attention to the wishes of commonwealth countries like Australia, New Zealand, and Canada, with all of whom Britain now has preferential arrangements in trade.

It is not an answer to the British dilemma to say that these preferences in duties would have to be brushed aside. Such action would cause severe repercussions in commonwealth countries.

Britain, for example, now takes one-third of Australia's exports and 90 per cent of New Zealand's dairy products.

THE LONDON CABINET will have to give assurances that some sort of "reservations" will be made so that the commonwealth countries affected by the "common market" proposal will have ample opportunity to adjust themselves to the new formula, or perhaps in some extreme cases will be covered by a special agreement.

It is not easy to reorganize trade arrangements that have lasted for many decades and have imbedded themselves in the price structure of a nation or in its capacity to export in competition with other countries.

This writer had a long talk the other day in Paris with Jean Monnet, the father of the "common market" idea, and he is hopeful that Great Britain will find within a few months a solution to her commonwealth dilemma and come into the European Common Market.

When asked how businesses in the United States—and, indeed, in certain European countries where the workers have a higher wage level than is to be found in other countries—are going to compete, the answer usually given by proponents of the "common market" is that the whole scheme will tend to raise wages in Europe where they are low and gradually to bring about real competition on the price front.

IT IS INTERESTING to note that French officials who are sold on the "common market" principle have persuaded many of their industrialists that the reduction or abolition of tariffs and quotas will tend to increase volume because new markets will be opened up that were previously closed by tariff walls.

The entire emphasis seems to be on increased volume of sales at perhaps lower prices.

In talking with one of the highest officials in the French government who is in a position to know President de Gaulle's views, the writer asked just how France expects to benefit from the European Common Market.

The answer was that there must be financial discipline and that, while the pressure for social gains should be recognized, the trend must be kept within bounds. This implies a certain form of wage-and-price control.

Already some trade unions in Britain are voicing skepticism about the whole thing. Ted Hill, chairman of the Trade-Union Congress, which has eight million members, has expressed opposition, along with 18 other British Trade-Union leaders.

They do not believe that Britain should enter the European Common Market without submitting the issue to a general election.

THESE TRADE-UNION leaders declared in a statement that to enter the "common market" would "be disastrous for many British industries" and "carefully won wage standards might easily be undermined."

Agricultural workers, too, are concerned. Unless priority is given, for instance, to the marketing of French farm products at prices commensurate with the higher costs of farm machinery, disaster could strike the French farmers and lead eventually to a withdrawal altogether from the "common market" agreement. A solution being proposed is to apply a series of tariff cuts gradually over the years.

There are, therefore, certain practical difficulties in the "common market" problem which, while by no means insurmountable, will challenge the ingenuity of the economic statesmen who are striving for a utopian era in the tariff world.

French Security Police

By William Millinship

One of the hardest-worked body of men in France these days is the Compagnies Republiques de Securite (CRS) which bears the brunt of violently expressed discontent.

Since, under the Fifth Republic, street demonstrations seem more effective than parliamentary agitation, the government's decision to raise four new companies of CRS caused little surprise.

These black-uniformed riot squads may face angry farmers one day and Communist demonstrators the next.

In Algeria last December they spent two days fighting European rioters and a week containing crowds of Moslem nationalists. On that occasion their patience and discipline prevented chaos and a massacre.

When there are no rioters to fight, the CRS may be protecting a visiting chief of state, guarding the route for one of President de Gaulle's frequent provincial tours, or controlling holiday road traffic. Almost 300 men spend the summer in swimming trunks at French seaside resorts preventing bathers from taking unnecessary risks and saving lives when necessary.

The CRS, despite their steel helmets, iron discipline and military organization, are manned by civilians.

Although they are occasionally sent into battle against strikers, they have effective unions of their own.

This dual personality was built into their organization when the government formed the CRS shortly after the last war. The government required martial riot squads to break up mass demonstrations but did not want to use army units.

There are at present 81 highly mobile companies of 210 men each, giving a total strength of more than 16,000. Each unit is self-contained with its own transport, radio-communications, and so forth, and can be rushed quickly to trouble spots.

French firemen and gendarmes are soldiers and come under the authority of the Minister of Armed Forces, but the CRS take their orders directly from the Minister of the Interior.

They have become one of the most effective and reliable institutions of the Fifth Republic, but they are beginning to have more work than they can cope with.

The Rubicon, a river in northern Italy, is famous in Roman history. Caesar, by crossing this stream (49 B.C.), at that time regarded as the northern boundary of Italy, committed himself to the Civil War. Hence, our present-day phrase, "to cross the Rubicon," which means to take the decisive step committing oneself to a risky enterprise.

Free Methodist To Assist Pastors Paid Small Salaries

The Pittsburgh Conference of the Free Methodist Church took steps to supplement the salaries of ministers of small churches at its session Wednesday afternoon at the Dixonville campgrounds. The ministers and congregations over the conference contribute to a fund from which the ministers of the small churches receive a portion of their support. Bishop Leslie R. Marston of Greenville, Ill., presided.

A lengthy discussion on the future policies of the conference superintendency took up a great part of the afternoon session and committees were appointed to continue the study in preparation for next year's meeting.

The committee includes the Rev. R. S. McGrew, the Rev. H. C. Mitchell and the Rev. E. W. Cowser. Laymen on the committee are James Helderth, Miss Daisy Fisher and W. L. Wood.

Mrs. Marston, wife of the bishop, addressed the Women's Missionary Society yesterday afternoon and spoke on the National Association of Evangelicals.

In a young people's Bible quiz, the team from Penn Hills, Pa., was the winner. They are William Backman, Carol Hollis, Steve Morgan and Dennis Pershing. The group will receive as a prize a trip to the national FMY camp at Winona Lake, Ind. Aug. 21-27, with the Rev. D. D. Pershing the coach.

The Rev. Elwyn E. Cutler, director of crusades and assistant General Missionary secretary, will speak tonight during the worship service at 7:30. Bishop Marston will speak Friday night. The conference sessions began Tuesday and will close Friday night with announcement of assignments of ministers.

Too Good To Be True

A Story With A Moral

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Once upon a time there was a man who set out to be popular and well-liked. His name was Mortimer Thrope. He went to the public library and read a book on how to become popular and successful. "The way to be popular is to be normal," the book said. "Just act as a normal, balanced civilized individual should act and you're bound to be well-liked." So Thrope faithfully followed the book's advice. He decided to become the most normal individual in his community. Mortimer married a girl who was neither homely nor pretty—just average. They had three children, all of whom got medium grades in school. Mortimer bought a standardized house with a standard-sized mortgage in a standard neighborhood. He drove a medium-sized car—neither too dull nor too flashy—and traded it in on a new one every three years. He joined the Elks, the PTA, and the American Legion. He was asked to serve on committees but always declined to run for office in any of these organizations. "Oh, there must be someone else better qualified," he said, modestly. He subscribed to a book club, but carefully avoided reading any of the selections—unless they hit the best seller list. Mortimer always—or almost always—got up to give his seat to an old lady on the bus, particularly if anyone from his neighborhood was on the bus, too. He always arrived on the job punctually at 9 a.m., and left promptly at 5:30. "I get paid for doing a full day's work—and I like to give it to them," he said. When the boss told a joke in a conference, Mortimer was the second employee to start chuckling and the next to the last to quit laughing. At cocktail parties Mortimer got high but never loaded, and never bragged about himself. "Tell me about yourself—you must have had an interesting life," he urged those he met. After 15 years of exemplary living, Mortimer suddenly awoke to the fact that instead of being widely popular, he was being avoided, even by old acquaintances. They seemed uneasy in his presence. So Mortimer hired a public relations man to find out why. This individual made a secret survey of Mortimer's neighborhood and office and came back with his report. "They think you're too good to be true, Mr. Thrope. They don't trust you. They think you must be hiding something." Moral: If you want to be popular, be different. Everyone suspects anyone who acts too normal.

Plans For Survival

Civil Defense Plans Call For Cheap Raid Shelters

In addition to shelters, what protective devices are being planned by civil defense officials for the average citizen? Sterling F. Green examines the survivor considerations in this last of four articles.
By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Civil defense authorities, concerned about the slow acceptance to the home shelter idea and misconceptions about such factors as evacuation, are working on protective devices for the average citizen. Too many Americans still conceive of 'shelter as a costly blast-proof structure with three-foot walls. Such shelters still are recommended, but the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization says that in a great many cases an ordinary basement would do if it were provided with a wind-baffle entrance to block contaminated dust.

Current civil defense thinking accepts the idea that millions would be in the wrong place if catastrophe came. These would be killed. The big idea now is to save those who, having escaped the blasts, are still vulnerable to radioactive fallout. The aim is to provide the survivors with shelter from the particles that are sucked up in nuclear explosions, carried on high, strong winds, and deposited on cities and countryside perhaps hundreds of miles away. There also are misconceptions about evacuation, officials acknowledge. Most city dwellers believe with good reason that an 11th hour mass exodus in private cars would end quickly in a hopeless jam. Actually, evacuation is not conceived of as a final, panicky flight while missiles streak toward their targets. It is now viewed chiefly as an advance precaution, taken in particularly vulnerable areas if deteriorating international conditions make it seem advisable. Until last week's White House order giving the Pentagon major responsibility for civil defense, there was behind-scenes conflict here over whether the military establishment should take over the warning, communications and research and development programs as well as the management of the shelter drive. The Governors' Conference and the United States Conference of Mayors—evidently believing that civilians would come off second best if military establishment men were making the decisions—issued strong statements favoring continued civilian control under the OCDM. But with these issues settled and policy control still in civilian hands, all the disputants apparently have agreed that an all-out drive is worth the effort, under any management. They are hoping it is not already too late. Key Housing Problem FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — Sgt. Charles Ray's typewriter had a squeak oil wouldn't correct. Peering into its workings, he spied a mother mouse nesting four baby mice.

Nixon Urges More Action

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says of President Kennedy's call for increased military power to meet the Soviet challenge on Berlin: "Only this kind of firm policy in dealing with the Communists has a chance to keep the peace without surrender." Nixon, commenting Wednesday on Kennedy's nationwide talk on Tuesday night, urged full support of the chief executive by all Americans—regardless of party. At the same time, Nixon called for "decisive action" on four other fronts. The 1960 Republican candidate for president listed them as: 1. Stop Castro's outlaw operations in the Americas. 2. Break the Soviet filibuster on atomic testing. 3. Put some backbone into America's fight against admitting Red China to the United Nations. 4. Shelf all new spending programs not directly necessary for national defense. "Action on these fronts," Nixon declared, "is essential to protect our security at home and will help regain the initiative for American leadership abroad."

Water Show Awaited At Thompson Pool The annual water show of the Red Cross Chapter's swimming and water safety class will be held Friday night at 7:30 at Thompson Park Pool. Jack Frontone, water safety director, will present certificates to those among over 200 enrolled who have passed tests in swimming. There will be group and individual demonstrations in swimming skills and water safety. Alvin Amer, who has been active in many phases of Red Cross work, will be guest speaker. Akron Boxer Charged CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert Walker, 26, undefeated in 35 amateur boxing matches, was arrested Wednesday by FBI agents on a federal fugitive warrant in an Akron burglary last February. Walker, of Akron, offered no resistance. The 6-foot-2, 228 - pound boxer, on probation here for a 1959 burglary, admitted failing to report to his probation officers. He is suspected of being one of three men involved in the Akron crime.

Panhandle Pair Asks Legion Post

CHARLESTON (AP) — The State American Legion Convention moved today into its second day with two Northern Panhandle men —former Mayor Jack R. Adams of Wheeling and Karl Rinehart of Weirton — seeking election as commander. Rinehart is the Legion's current 1st District commander. Election of West Virginia Department officers will come Sunday, on the final day of the convention. St. Police Lt. Robert E. Lester of St. Albans is the outgoing commander, and Miss Bess Sheppard of Parkersburg is the current president of the Legion's auxiliary. The women also are holding their state meeting here. About 5,000 Legionnaires and members of the auxiliary were expected for the convention sessions. Jams M. Wagoner of Lancaster, Ohio, a national vice commander, will speak tomorrow morning. A joint session of the Legion and auxiliary will hear U.S. Sen. Wayne L. Morse, D-Ore., with Gov. Barron addressing the commander's banquet Saturday night. The annual convention parade is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon.

Cuba

tacked the U.S. press for predicting he would mark the 26th of July anniversary by announcing plans for a single political organization. A few minutes later, he told the crowd Cuba was headed toward one over-all Socialist party embracing all organizations in the island country—military, political, labor and others.

Castro did not say when such a party would be proclaimed but indicated its formation would be gradual.

Castro also said he would return the Eastern Air Lines plane hijacked by an armed passenger Monday if the United States promises to return any Cuban planes that might be seized and flown to the United States in the future.

A number of Cuban planes hijacked and flown to the United States have been seized to satisfy a legal judgment against the Castro government.

Castro denied any responsibility for the hijacking of the American plane off its Miami-to-Tampa run. He said such an act "is against our principles and would just be giving an excuse to imperialism for launching an attack against us."

At the start of the relay Gagarin was presented with Cuba's new highest decoration, the Order of Giron Beach created 11 days ago.

The decoration is named for the beach on the south coast of Cuba where Castro crushed the U.S.-supported invasion of Cuban exiles in April.

6 Arrested In Cuban Demonstration At UN

NEW YORK (AP)—What started out as a quiet pro-Castro parade Wednesday outside the United Nations, ended with the arrest of six persons.

About 200 Cubans, celebrating the eighth anniversary of Fidel Castro's revolutionary movement marched peacefully in front of U.N. headquarters for about two hours. They chanted such slogans as "Hands off Cuba."

As they prepared to disband, a patrolman sought to hasten one woman picket from the scene. A male picket intervened. About 20 other demonstrators converged on the officer, and then about 100 policemen, mounted and on foot, broke into the ranks of the demonstrators.

Before the demonstrators were disbanded, a half-dozen were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct. However, there were no injuries.

Chester Patio Project Seen Near Completion

A concrete patio at the Community Building in Chester City Park will be completed this week, Harold Dickey, Park Commission chairman, reported.

The commission met Wednesday evening at the park and was advised by Sayre Graham, the contractor, of progress on the patio.

The group authorized the construction of a wading pool for children in the playground area. Dickey presided. Next meeting is Aug. 9.

Pitcher Art Fowler of the Los Angeles Angels compiled a 13-10 record with St. Paul in the American Association last season.

Request Studied On Water Supply

The membership of Midland Heights Homes met Wednesday evening to discuss the request of the Ohio Township Municipal Authority to make an emergency water line tap at the heights.

The membership decided to have its counsel, Atty. William Angel of Ambridge, present an agreement and present it to the homes' Board of Directors.

The Midland Municipal Authority recently gave its approval for the township water authority to use water at the heights for emergency providing the housing authority agreed.

Approval for use of the tap will clear the way for a bonding company to sell bonds for water system improvements in the township. Daniel C. Baker, water chairman, said.

He said the township has almost completed its survey and plans which will be submitted to the bonding company for approval. First phase improvements include a water line from Meadowbrook Estates to the heights area, a distance of about two miles. Later lines are expected to be extended into other parts of the township.

Industry Council Given Petition

Industry Borough Council held a special meeting Wednesday evening for various discussions and received a petition from a number of residents concerning water service.

Council discussed the status of action to forestall construction of a lagoon sewage disposal facility in the borough by Bridgewater and Beaver.

Councilmen also aired planning and zoning problems and the possibility of street improvements. Calvin Dunlap, president, presided. Next meeting Wednesday.

Company coming? You can make a luscious quick dessert by splitting two sponge - cake layers (from the bakery or your freezer). Put one of the layers together with vanilla pudding; sandwich the other together with apricot preserves spiked, if you like, with rum or cognac. Frost the top of both cakes with whipped cream and serve a wedge of each, twin style, for each portion.

Miss Phyllis Heiney Weds Donald Coss Of Cleveland

The First Christian Church of Wellsville was the scene of the wedding at 1:30 o'clock July 16 of Miss Phyllis Elaine Heiney of Cleveland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heiney of Glenmoor, to Donald R. Coss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Coss of Cleveland.

The Rev. Robert Andrews, pastor, officiated for the single-ring ceremony. Miss Nancy Falconer, church organist, presented a half-hour recital of wedding music. Mrs. Wilbert Shafer sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a street-length gown of white crystallette. The fitted bodice featured a sweetheart neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves. She wore a crown of seed pearls set off by a theater veil. She carried a white Bible, topped with a white orchid, carnations and stephanotis, tied with satin streamers.

Mrs. Louis Ward Jr. was her sister's matron of honor and was attired in a blue Shantung tunic dress. She wore a matching Dior bow and white accessories. She carried a blue prayer book, the gift of the bride, and it was adorned with white carnations and pink rosebuds.

Joseph A. Heiney, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were her other brothers, Wesley Heiney and Jerome Heiney. The mothers of the principals were attired in blue dresses with white accessories and carnation corsages.

A reception for 125 was held at the Glenmoor fire hall. Mrs. Francis Valleria and Mrs. John Yanni, sisters of the bride, were hostesses.

The bride's table, covered with an ivory damask cloth and an overlay of white net, was centered with a three-tier cake, topped with a bridal couple. Pink and white carnations and white huckleberry leaves completed the setting. Wedding bells and streamers were suspended from the ceiling.

Aides were Mrs. Earl Frost, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Barbara Attwood of Cleveland, Mrs. Frank Quinn, Mrs. George Ruhl, Mrs. Jerome Heiney, Mrs. Wesley Heiney and Mrs. Joseph Heiney. Mrs. Joseph Hendricks, another aunt, was in charge of the guest register.

For her honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, the bride wore an orchid linen suit with matching hat and her bridal orchid.

The newlyweds will reside in Cleveland.

Out-of-town guests were from Hookstown, Lisbon, Aliquippa, Marietta, Wellsville and Cleveland.

Mrs. Jo Ann Dobbs and Mrs. Marian Zelasko of Wellsville were hostesses for a pre-nuptial shower.

The bride observed all the wedding traditions.

Miss Joan L. Fitzmaurice of Pittsburgh, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a powder blue chiffon gown over taffeta. Her headpiece matched her gown and she carried a bouquet of assorted spring flowers.

Miss Peggy Purcell of Pittsburgh, niece of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore a gown identical to that of the maid of honor. Shelia Mihm of Pittsburgh, niece of the bride, was flower girl and was attired in a frock identical to those of the other attendants. The bride wore an orchid linen outfit with Navy accessories and her bridal orchids for traveling. William Papuzak of Midland was best man and Jerome Doyle of Industry, cousin of the bridegroom, was an usher.

The bride's mother wore a rose beige outfit with Navy accessories and the bridegroom's mother was attired in a powder blue dress with beige accessories. Both wore carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony, the bride's mother was hostess to 35 members of the immediate families and bridal party at a wedding breakfast at the Arlington diningroom in Pittsburgh, where a reception was held in the evening for about 150 guests. The parents of the couple were hosts and hostesses at the reception.

The bride was graduated from Mt. Alvernia High School and is a bookkeeper in the Midland office of the Beaver Trust Co. Her husband was graduated from Midland High School and is employed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

New Frontier Faces Threat From Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy apparently has put in jeopardy part of his New Frontier program by his call for additional defense spending.

Spurred by the popular support Kennedy aroused in taking his case to the nation Tuesday night, Congress is in the process of giving him the $3,454,000,000 he asked—plus a year's authority to boost military manpower—as speedily as its ponderous machinery can operate.

But the enthusiasm with which members of both parties are backing the chief executive in the buildup of arms strength in connection with the Berlin crisis is matched by the misgivings with which many view the fiscal future.

Republicans have taken the lead in demanding domestic economies aimed at pruning what they say otherwise may be a deficit in excess of $5 billion for the fiscal year ending next June 30. Conservative Democrats are talking in the same terms.

The Republican Congressional Committee said in a statement Wednesday night that "the President can't have it both ways" and "must shelve unnecessary civilian spending for the duration of the international emergency."

"We cannot afford the fat of social experimentation at this time if we are to develop the sinews of survival," the statement said.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., called on Kennedy to turn his attention immediately to "curtailment of all non-defense expenditures . . . which may be desirable but not absolutely necessary."

Kennedy has established a fairly good batting average in combatting the traditional Republican-Southern Democratic coalition and getting Congress' approval of legislation dealing with distressed areas, housing, minimum wage, Social Security and unemployment compensation.

But the increased military outlays have injected a new element in this contest—the prospect of a whopping budget deficit or increased taxes in 1962, when all House seats and one-third of those in the Senate are up for grabs in the election. Kennedy has left the tax question open but said he wants a strictly balanced budget next year.

Berlin

United States is willing to put into the combined effort.

U.S. officials also were sympathetic toward helping Britain in the NATO stepup because of the financial predicament which has forced the English into an austerity program.

Kennedy made plain in his talk to the nation Tuesday night that he wants the NATO nations to hasten fulfillment of the long-unmet NATO military strength goal.

In the center of Europe, this means increasing the present strength of about 23 NATO divisions to the target of 30 divisions. Most of this buildup is due from West Germany.

Thief Takes Carton Of Radio Equipment

A carton containing radio equipment was taken Wednesday night or early today from a trailer truck at the M. & J. Trucking Co. on Carolina Ave., Chester.

Chester police said the breaking and entering was reported by James Tyler, office clerk. The loss was not immediately known.

On June 17, two trailers were broken into and clothing taken. The FBI and the Interstate Commerce Commission were notified then.

Draft

He said recruiting has been exceptionally high in the past year and the 2nd Continental Army, which has local jurisdiction, topped the nation in the fiscal year ending June 31. Sgt. Bosley and assistant, Sgt. Rocco Minnito, received a plaque for exceeding quotas in local enlistments.

Sgt. Charles Wells, Air Force recruiter at the City Hall, said a number of men between 28 and 32, with three or four dependents, inquired yesterday as to the chances of returning to the service.

He said they were within the age requirements but the number of dependents prevented enlistment for the present.

He added a number of youths near draft age also sought information on enlistment. He termed the station "busy" yesterday.

Chief Shipfitter James Pattison, in charge of the Navy recruiting station at the City Hall, also reported a number of inquiries mainly from men with prior service — World War II and the Korean War.

Most were overage, however, he said. He predicted an upswing in enlistments.

'Free' Plates Hit By West Virginia Attorney Ruling

CHARLESTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. C. Donald Robertson advised State Motor Vehicles Commissioner Jack A. Nuckols here to recall about 172 free auto license plates already issued to sheriffs and the deputies.

In a lengthy opinion requested by Nuckols, Robertson said that there is no authority under West Virginia law for the issuance of such free plates to such county officials.

Such a procedure, Robertson insisted, clearly violates the legislative intent of a new Sheriff's Bureau statute enacted earlier this year, and also circumvents other sections of the West Virginia code.

Describing the free plates as "a devious route of lodging record title . . . a sham, a technical maneuver," Robertson advised Nuckols:

"You should forthwith recall the approximately 172 certificates of title issued to the West Virginia Sheriff's Bureau, as the apparent owner of automobiles actually belonging to individual sheriffs and deputy sheriffs."

"Only vehicles owned and possessed by the West Virginia Sheriff's Bureau should be spared," Robertson thus emphasized that private cars operated by sheriffs and deputies in law enforcement work "are subject to the payment of regular registration fees as are all other privately owned motor vehicles."

Hillsboro Youth Wins Medical Scholarship

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The $2,000 Rural Medical Scholarship, set up 13 years ago to encourage an interest in the study of medicine among young men and women in Ohio's non-metropolitan areas, has been awarded to 21-year-old Thomas H. Mallory of Hillsboro.

The Ohio State Medical Association said Mallory, son of a school teacher who also operates a small farm, will use the annual scholarship at Ohio State University's College of Medicine.

Pre-Natal Clinic Ends

LISBON — The last in a series of pre-natal clinics was held Wednesday afternoon at the County Health Board offices. "Bathing the Baby" was the subject. Lisa Lea Schiederer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Schiederer of Lisbon R.D. 1, was the model. Another pre-natal class is expected to begin in October, according to Mrs. Violet Peterson, county health nurse who serves as instructor.

HANCOCK CAMPERS. Classes in crafts and a good grooming contest are among the many activities at the camping period for Hancock County older 4-H Club members this week at Tomlinson Run State Park. Pictured with some of the craft projects are Rose Mary Haught of the Cherokee Club and Tom Brown of Pioneer, back row, and Eva Cecil of Seneca and Sandy Wilson of Elwood. Miss Janet Reed of the Town & Country Club of Chester gets ready with a hairdo for the good grooming contest today as Phil Smith of the Cherokee Club looks on. There are 88 youngsters attending the camp through Friday.

Georgetown Woman, 88, Honored With Birthday Fete

Mrs. Lillian Laughlin, widow of Thomas Laughlin, celebrated her 88th birthday Sunday at a family dinner at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Laughlin of Georgetown.

She is a lifelong resident of Georgetown and has two sons and two daughters, 22 grandchildren and 30 great-grandchildren. Sons are Elmer Laughlin and Samuel Laughlin of Georgetown and daughters Mrs. Ernest Workman and Mrs. Samuel Hutmacher of Sebring.

Mrs. Laughlin, who is one of the town's oldest women, is a former postmaster. She is a member of the Methodist Church.

Due to illness, Mrs. Laughlin is now residing at Goldie's Nursing Home.

Guests were Mrs. Gladys Pinkerton of Wellsville and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Kincaid and family of Hookstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kinsey and son, David, of Library and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fisher of Mt. Lebanon were Sunday guests of Mrs. Thomas Todd.

Mr. and Mrs. William Durst entertained Mr. and Mrs. Emmons Hoover of Cannonsburg and Malcolm Rosson and Edward Cramer of Coraopolis Sunday.

Ret. John P. Allison of Ft. Knox, Ky., spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allison of R. D. 1.

Mrs. Guy Mahon of Alamo, Tex., and Mrs. William Talbert and children, Margo, James and Jeffrey of Cleveland were Monday guests of Mrs. Louis Wagner.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stewart, Mrs. Leonard Scott and son, Kenneth, and Sandra Reed have returned home after a visit at Route, Pa., and New York.

Joyce Laughlin, daughter of John Laughlin Jr. of Poland, has concluded a visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Laughlin.

Olive Alexander visited over the weekend with her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Guy McCuen, of Marshalltown, Iowa.

Mrs. Homer Weaver of Upland, Calif., is visiting her sisters, Mrs. Edward Alexander, Mrs. Walter Reed and Mrs. John Calhoun and other relatives in the vicinity.

Ray Dawson, a lifelong Georgetown resident, observed his 80th birthday quietly Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jackson and family of Chester were Sunday

Boy Awarded Seminar Trip

LISBON — William (Bill) Skeels, 18, of Lisbon R.D. 4, has been awarded an all-expense scholarship to an International Farm Seminar Aug. 20-23 at the University of Minnesota.

He was selected by the Ohio Council of Farm Co-operatives and the American Institute of Co-operatives for the annual AIC institute on the Minneapolis campus. Some 3,000 young people and adults from the United States and eight foreign countries will attend.

He has been in 4-H Club work 11 years and is a member of the Just Rite Club, of which his father is advisor. His brother, Jim, a member of the same club, was a delegate to the National 4-H Club Congress last year for outstanding work in dairying.

Bill also was county 4-H king last year. A member of the Junior Fair Board, he graduated from United Local High School in 1960 and is associated with his brother and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Skeels, in the operation of a dairy farm near Salem's North Cold Run Reservoir.

Bill was advised his selection for the AIC institute was made from 4-H report forms he submitted to Ohio 4-H headquarters this year. Besides his work in dairy and Tractor Club projects, he is a member of the Junior Leadership Club and was a 4-H camp counselor last year.

until July 1, 1962, order 250,000 ready reservists to active duty for 12 months.

The measure also would permit the President to extend for not more than 12 months terms of service of military personnel which expire before that date.

In addition, the bill provides authority for extending active-duty training periods. McNamara said this would be used to increase "the readiness of selected reserve units and individual reservists by extending their training periods two to four weeks over and above their normal training."

If Kennedy had chosen to invoke emergency powers in effect since the Korean War, he could have called to active duty as many as 1 million ready reservists for two years. However, Congress would have had to supply the necessary funds.

Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told the subcommittee he fully supported the program outlined by McNamara.

Child, 2, Scalded In Home Mishap

A child suffered scalds from water and another was injured in a fall from a bike among emergency cases at City Hospital Wednesday.

Robert Henthorn, 2, son of Mrs. Roland Henthorn of Wood St., Wellsville, was treated for second degree scalds of the shoulder and upper left arm from hot water in a mishap at home.

Ralph Albanese, 8, son of Ralph Albanese, 1799 Chester Ave., Wellsville, received a lacerated nose and left knee and abrasions of the left cheek in a tumble from his bicycle.

Margaret Stephens of New Cumberland R. D. 2, suffered second degree burns of the right leg from grease.

St. John's University of New York set a school record last season by dropping 41 free throws in 50 attempts against Syracuse.

which three Negroes were killed by police gunfire.

An attempt by nationalist leaders to paralyze the country by a protest strike flopped. Most Africans went to their jobs as usual.

Some 79,000 whites and only 4,000 Negroes were eligible to vote in the colony, which has a population of 2,675,000 Negroes and 215,000 whites.

Returns from 39 of the 50 districts showed 32,878 votes in favor of the new constitution, 15,615 opposed. Only five constituencies so far had rejected the plan. One was Willowvale, which has the largest concentration of Negro voters in the colony.

Government officials say the new constitution will mean a gradual breakdown of the color bar and will be a real move toward a partnership of the white and black races.

The U.S. Constitution is unique in that it was drafted before the government was established. This is the only instance of this kind in the world.

Historical House To Be Viewed

Spectators at the Highlandtown Centennial opening tonight in the little community near Wellsville will find this historical home one of the attractions of the observance lasting through Saturday.

Miss Marion Blood of Ambridge and sister, Mrs. Anne Schaller of Pittsburgh, are restoring the old Rose House, whose original brick part just beyond the columned section is 143 years old.

The first section was built about 1818 and the frame portion about 1861. The historic structure is the first house on Route 39 as one enters Highlandtown from Wellsville.

Miss Blood, who spends the weekends at the home, and her sister are here for the homecoming observance sponsored by the community and the volunteer firemen.

According to Miss Blood, the house stands on a one-eighth section, about 90 acres, which was half of a quarter section owned by John Ogilvie. It was surveyed in 1817 and sold to J. H. Paul, who built the brick house.

The Paul family moved to Missouri and sold the property to John Cummings, who in turn sold it to David Rose, a Columbiana County pioneer who came to the area in 1812 and settled at Rose's Run near Salineville.

The house has been in the Rose family four generations. After David Rose, it was owned by his son, John Junior Rose, who was postmaster of the area when it was known as Inverness during the Civil War.

John was the last postmaster and the office was vacated when rural free delivery began. The office stood near the north end of the house.

John Rose's oldest daughter married Francis Mervine Blood, whose daughters now own the house.

Miss Blood said the frame section was built to enlarge the house for an inn, which accommodated many Ohio farmers from about 1860 to 1900, as they drove their herds and flocks toward Wellsville for river shipping.

Highlight of tonight's opening will be the special exhibits of antiques at the fire hall. The antiques also will be shown Friday night and Saturday until 7. Mrs. James Sanko of Wellsville will screen slides of Scotland tonight at 9 at the station.

Some 60 units are expected to participate in the parade Friday night at 7:30.

Merles Stewart, chairman, said the parade will feature old cars, buggies, covered wagons, stage coaches, tractors, steam engines and old sleighs.

Girls of the community and the Highlandtown Grange have entered floats. The Columbiana County 4-H Band and the Salineville High School Band will play. The Highland Flingers and the Wilsonettes of Wellsville will march.

Antique car clubs from Minerva and Alliance have promised to send vehicles. Trophies will be awarded various units.

The units will form at the school, move east on Route 39 to the intersection of Bethel Rd., then north past the fire station, for the judging.

The horse pulling contest which starts Saturday noon will be the final feature attraction. A carnival will be open tonight and Friday nights from 7 to 11 and Saturday from 1 to midnight.

Man Held For Court In Auto Theft Case

NEW CUMBERLAND — Douglas C. Manley, 39, who says he has no permanent address, was bound over to the next term of Hancock County Grand Jury for bringing stolen goods — a car — into the state at a hearing Wednesday before Squire John D. Heron.

Manley is being held in the county jail in lieu of $2,000 bond. He is accused of stealing a 1950 Chevrolet car, valued at $200, from Terre Haute, Ind.

Manley was picked up yesterday by New Cumberland Police Chief William Webster and sheriff deputies.

Authorities said he refuses to offer any information about himself or the car, owned by Gilbert Thomas of Terre Haute.

20 Attend Meeting For Mt. Nebo Grange

LISBON — Twenty attended the meeting of the Mt. Nebo Grange Wednesday night with Charles Morlan, master, in charge.

The charter was draped in memory of Roscoe B. Halverstadt. Golden Sheaf certificates were presented two 50-year members, Mrs. Mida Shelton and Silas Poppel.

The lecturer's program included group singing, distribution of leaflets on vacations in Ohio, a quiz, a stunt and roll call response on "Vacations I Would Like To Take."

Two applications for membership were received. An outdoor wiener roast followed.

Next meeting is Aug. 9 when the first and second degrees will be conferred.

Emphasis On Combat

Reservists Leave Friday For 2 Weeks Of Training

The 7th Medium Tank Battalion, East Liverpool's Army Reserve unit, will leave Friday for two weeks of training at Camp Pickett, Va., in a program reflecting preparations for what ever may come from the Berlin crisis.

The 49 men will undergo rigorous combat training, use actual tear gas and go through simulated nuclear warfare. They will join other units of Ohio's 83rd Infantry Division, one of 10 fully organized and subject to call if Congress authorizes mobilization.

In the past, the 7th has trained at Ft. Knox, Ky., but this year the entire 83rd will be in the field, necessitating use of Camp Pickett, according to Capt. John Markanton, battalion commander.

The unit will fight off aggressor forces during the combat training, which will include four days and nights of bivouac starting Monday. The training will be mainly in tactics. Real tear gas will be used instead of simulating this type of combat and the nuclear warfare training will stress precautions and survival.

The annual summer camp will emphasize combat readiness and platoons will be tested on their capabilities and efficiency.

The men will leave by bus Friday midnight from the Poplar Ln

Armory, boarding a train at East Palestine. They expect to arrive at Camp Pickett sometime Saturday.

An advance party of four men, with M. Sgt. Clarence Steff in charge, left Tuesday night and the battalion's convoy of four jeeps and trucks, with Sgt. Samuel Kohler in charge, left this morning.

Other county units in the 83rd, those at Salem and East Palestine, also will leave tomorrow night.

The battalion expects to return Aug. 12 — unless there is a call-up meanwhile.

Cincinnati came within an eyelash of slipping out of first place in the National League Wednesday night, but once again Frank Robinson came to the rescue.

Robinson's two-run homer in the eighth, following a pinch homer by Gus Bell, provided a 3-2 victory over Milwaukee and staved off the onrushing Los Angeles Dodgers for at least one more day.

Norm Larker's grand slam home run converted Don Drysdale's five-hitter into a 6-1 victory over Philadelphia as the Dodgers won their eighth in the last nine starts. Drysdale was locked in a duel with Frank Sullivan, replacement for the injured Jim Owens, when Larker clouted his first grand slammer.

Pittsburgh snapped a five-game losing streak by downing San Francisco 8-3. Bob Friend, who gave up 12 hits, broke a tie with a two-out bases-loaded single in the sixth inning.

Bobby Will's pinch single off Lindy McDaniel with the bases full and two out in the 12th gave the Chicago Cubs a 7-6 decision over St. Louis.

Milwaukee rookie Don Nottebart, was shutting out the Reds 2-0 when Gus Bell went up to hit for Ken Johnson, Cincinnati's new pitcher from Toronto, in the eighth. Bell's homer into the right field bleachers took care of the shutout. The victory went to Johnson.

Friend got better as the game went along in Pittsburgh. Dick Lemay, victim of Friend's tie-breaking single, was the loser.

The winning spurt of the Cubs against the Cardinals started as Ron Santo singled with one out. He moved to second on an infield out and took third on a wild pitch. McDaniel then walked Ernie Banks and Ed Bouchee intentionally before Will came off the bench to win it for relief man Barney Schultz.

Blanchard Hits 2, Mantle Slams 39th As HR Fever Rises

New York and Detroit kept pace in the American League race Wednesday with the Yankees clinging to their half game lead. New York hit four homers while blasting Chicago 5-2 and Detroit used homers by Rocky Colavito and Al Kaline to ease Frank Lary's way to a 5-4 victory over Los Angeles.

Johnny Blanchard was the latest to earn a line in the record book. He hit two homers in successive turns at bat Wednesday in the New York victory over Chicago. Coupled with pinch homers Friday and Saturday in Boston, this gave Blanchard four homers on four consecutive appearances at bat. It was the 12th time it had been done. Ralph Kiner did it twice.

Mickey Mantle hit No. 39, only one behind Roger Maris' total of 40 in their exciting race to break Babe Ruth's record of 60, set in 1927.

Paul Has No Intentions Of Firing Jimmy Dykes

Detroit remained right on the heels of the Yanks, trailing by only a half game when the Tigers defeated the Los Angeles Angels behind Frank Lary. Detroit also went to the homer with Rocky Colavito slamming No. 29 and Al Kaline No. 13.

Four Baltimore pitchers held Boston to eight hits in a doubleheader while the Orioles swept the pair 5-1 and 9-2. Billy Hoelt, Wes Stock and Hoyt Wilhelm teamed up with a two-hitter in the opener. Jack Fisher went all the way in the second with a six-hitter.

Woody Held and Jimmy Piersall each had four hits in Cleveland's 17-hit attack in a 12-5 victory over Kansas City. Gary Bell was the winner over Norm Bass in relief of Jim Archer.

Indians Belt A's Pitching For 17 Hits In 12-5 Win

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Maybe all Gary Bell needs to do to get the winning habit is to change shirts. That's exactly what the young Cleveland Indians pitcher did Wednesday night, and it appeared to be the turning point in the Indians' 12-5 drubbing of the Kansas City Athletics.

Of course, Cleveland's 17-hit attack—including five extra base knocks—gave the fireballing right-hander a lift. Woody Held and Jim Piersall made four hits each, including Held's 11th home run of the year.

For the first three innings, Bell's chances of remaining in the ball game didn't look good. He had walked five men and had given up three runs. The game was tied at that point.

Then Bell changed his dripping shirt, and from the fourth inning on, he was in command, going on to win his seventh game against nine losses.

From the fourth through the eighth, Bell permitted only one hit.

The Indians collected four triples besides Held's homer. The As had scored twice in the first, and Cleveland tied it in the second. John Romano and Held singled. Pitcher Jim Archer fielded Bell's bunt and threw over the first baseman's head, and Romano and Held scored.

The Indians scored a run in the third when Willie Kirkland walked stole second, went to third on catcher Haywood Sullivan's bad throw and came in on Held's single.

Cleveland took a 4-3 lead with a run in the fourth. Piersall tripled and scored on Tito Francona's ground ball.

The Indians provided Bell a three-run cushion with a pair of runs in the sixth. John Temple and Piersall singled and advanced on a sacrifice by Francona. Bubba Phillips brought them home with a single.

Held's homer in the seventh made it 7-3.

Piersall singled to start the eighth, Francona walked and was forced on Kirkland's grounder. Chuck Essegian tripled, scoring Piersall and Kirkland. Romano followed with a single for the third run.

In the ninth, Temple tripled and scored on Piersall's grounder. Francona then hit a three-bagger and scored on a wild pitch, making it 12-3.

The As scored three runs in the ninth on three hits, including a double by Jerry Lumpe and Norm Siebern's triple.

Jim Grant (9-4) pitches the rubber game against the As today, opposed by Art Ditmar (2-5). Cleveland moves to Los Angeles Friday night for a three-game series.

Friend, Bucs Snap Losing Streaks, 8-3

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The outlook for the Pittsburgh Pirates and pitcher Bob Friend was somewhat brighter today than it has been recently. They have snapped losing streaks.

Friend pitched and batted the Bucs to an 8-3 victory over San Francisco Wednesday night.

The victory snapped the Pirates' losing skein at five games and left them just one game behind fourth place Milwaukee and two back of the third place Giants.

It was Friend's first triumph since July 5. The husky right-hander had dropped four straight decisions. His record is now (10-13).

Friend also was the hitting hero. With the bases loaded and two out in the sixth inning he singled home two runs to break a 3-3 tie and clinch the victory.

For a time it looked as if the Bucs might lose again. The Giants jumped on Friend for three runs in the fifth inning.

However, the Bucs tied the game in their half of the inning. Smokey Burgess got their first hit of the game, a triple. Don Hoak then walked and Bill Mazeroski, Bill Virdon and Dick Groat singled to account for the runs.

The Pirates' final three runs came in the eighth inning.

Groat had three hits and Friend and Mazeroski two each. It was the 15th straight game in which Mazeroski was hit safely.

The two clubs conclude their three game series tonight. Vinegar Bend Mizell (4-7) will pitch for the Bucs against Sam Jones (7-6).

Gain 14-14 Tie In Scrimmage

College All-Stars Unveil Pass Attack Against Bears

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — "The college All-Star squad is the best in at least 11 years," says George Halas, whose Chicago Bears are willing to agree with him.

Head Coach Otto Graham brought the collegians to the Bears training site at St. Joseph's College Wednesday in full-game scrimmage and they unveiled a passing attack to battle the Bears to a 14-14 tie.

It was the All-Stars main tune-up for their game with the Philadelphia Eagles, 1960 National Football League champions, in Soldier Field Aug. 4.

Defensively, the Collegians — fortified by such players as Emil Holub of Texas Tech, Joe Rutgens of Illinois, Claude Gibson of North Carolina State and Marlin McKeever of Southern California — held the Bears to 77 yards running and 103 passing.

Offensively, quarterback Bill Kilmer of UCLA, Norman Snead of Wake Forest and Tom Matte of Ohio State blew up quite a storm. After spotting the Bears a 14-0 lead, Kilmer completed eight out of 11 passes in an 80-yard scoring surge. His targets were Aaron Thomas of Oregon State, Mike Ditka of Pittsburgh, Pervis Atkins of New Mexico State and Blynn Gregory of Southern Methodist.

He took turns hitting them, with Pervis catching a 22-yard toss for the touchdown.

The collegians evened it up in the fourth period on a 75-yard drive in 12 plays. Matte started it and led the team to the Bear 35 with a 13-yard flat pass to Navy's Joe Bellino.

Then Kilmer came in again, spearing the elusive Bellino twice to reach the 4. From there, Atkins barreled across.

Knowles topped Rogers in playoff opener. Knowles took a one game lead on Rogers-Drive-In in the Minor League playoffs with a 9-6 victory Wednesday at the Thompson Park field.

Ricki, Bright and Waite with three hits each paced the winners while Bright also picked up the victory on the mound. Manning was the losing hurler. Watson, Wolfe and McVay had two hits apiece for the losers.

The playoff series, best two out of three, continues today.

Hank Bauer is the fifth manager of the Kansas City Athletics in seven years.

Palmer Favored Chamberlain Blanks Foe, 5-0 Patterson Slated To Fight Oct. 23

To Capture PGA

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—There's green grass, blue grass, brown grass, crab grass and quack grass, but the brand that has the golfers at the PGA championship talking to themselves today is another kind—flying grass.

It doesn't have wings, but golf balls hit out of it on the lush, soft fairways at Olympia Fields' famed north course act like they do.

The way balls jump out of the flying grass on approach shots at the 6,722 yard, par 35-37-70 layout has been the main topic of conversation among the professionals who today played the first round of the 72-hole medal play tournament that ends Sunday.

Defending champion Jay Hebert, Arnold Palmer, the 5-1 favorite to add the PGA to his 1959 U.S. Open and Masters and 1961 British Open titles; South Africa's Gary Player, former PGA champion Bob Rosburg, former Masters champ Art Wall, and top tourists Ken Venturi and Bobby Goalby—each seems to feel the fellow who masters the grass will reach for the winner's check of about $10,000 late Sunday afternoon.

"Flying grass," said Rosburg, "is the term we use for grass that doesn't hold the ball."

"The grass here is a bent type and it's so thin bladed that the ball nestles down in it. On your 6, 7 and 8 iron approaches, it's almost impossible to get any backspin on the ball—so you can't control the shot. There's overspin and the ball flies much farther than you expect it to."

Player felt the grass was affecting his chipping. So did Hebert and Goalby.

Palmer was asked his opinion during his final warmup.

On the previous hole, his 8-iron chip from about 25 yards off the green hit 15 feet short of the cup and kangaroo-bounced all the way to the back fringe—about 50 feet beyond the hole. Overspin out of the flying grass had caused a good chip to be a bad one.

"Did you see the last hole?" Palmer asked. Told yes, he grinned: "Then I guess you saw my answer."

Richards Changes Mound Staff For All-Star Tilt

BOSTON (AP) — Manager Paul Richards of Baltimore, obviously looking for pitching help, changed four of his hurlers on the American League team for the second 1961 All-Star game in Boston next Monday.

The lineup for the July 31 game was announced by American League President Joe Cronin today.

American League pitchers were thumped for 11 hits in the National League's 5-4, 10-inning victory in San Francisco July 11, the 10th victory in the last 14 games for the National.

Richards, permitted to change any or all of his pitchers for the second game, shifted to relief specialist Luis Arroyo of the New York Yankees, Barry Latman of Cleveland, durable Camilo Pascual of Minnesota and rookie right-hander Don Schwall of the Boston Red Sox.

They replace Mike Fornieles of Boston, Frank Lary of Detroit, Jim Perry of Cleveland and Billy Pierce of Chicago.

Holdover pitchers from the first game are Jim Bunning of Detroit, Dick Donovan of Washington, Whitey Ford of the Yankees, Ken McBride of Los Angeles and Hoyt Wilhelm of Baltimore.

Richards, permitted to add three players to the 25-man team that played the first game, selected first basemen Roy Sievers of Chicago and Bill Skowron of New York and outfielder Tito Francona of Cleveland.

The eight players elected by vote of league managers, coaches and players in June who started in the San Francisco game, also must start the second game.

Wellsville Rally Nips Gallaghers' In Softball Loop

A bunt, followed by a throwing error resulted in the winning run to give Wellsville a 5-4 come from behind victory over Gallagher's Wednesday in the City Softball League.

The game went eight innings as Wellsville, trailing at one time 4-2, came up with a pair of runs in the seventh to send the contest into extra innings.

Sam Ratkovich was the winning pitcher and fanned 11. Big Bob Boston had a perfect 3-for-3 day at the plate. Kenny collected two hits for Gallagher's.

Gail Is A Girl But Tops Hitters In Little League

WAYLAND, Mich. (AP) — Gail Hoffman, a freckled eighth grader, leads the Wayland, Mich., Midget League with a whopping .600 batting average.

And this 90-pounder, captain of the team, is a sure-handed second baseman who has made only four errors in 10 games.

Some of the other youngsters are jealous of Gail's success and many of the opposing teams are clamoring to have the league's top hitter thrown out of the league.

You see, Gail is a girl — the only one in the league.

Luther Steals Home For Hookstown Win

Joe Luther stole home in the ninth inning to give Hookstown a 5-4 win over Frankfort Springs Wednesday in the South Side Hot Stove League.

Tom Wright led the winners with four hits and Rich Anderson was the winning hurler. Gary Brodmerke homered for the losers.

Merchants Capture 9th Straight Tilt

Dick Chamberlain, who seems to get better with age, was near perfect Wednesday when he allowed Columbiana only one hit as Cox-Merchants chalked up its eighth straight victory, a 5-0 decision, at Patterson Field.

The win virtually gave East Liverpool the County-City League championship. Cox - Merchants meets East Palestine Friday at Patterson Field in the final game of the second half. The locals have a 9-0 record.

Chamberlain gave up only one single and struckout 12 Columbiana batters. He gave up only two walks.

The righthander received ample support from his teammates who turned in a 10-hit attack featured by two home runs off the bats of Bob Campbell and Frederick.

Frederick also collected two singles to go three out of four. Bob Hobbs and Jerry Murovski chipped in with two safeties each.

Allen was the starting and losing pitcher for Columbiana.

BASEBALL RARITY. Umpires exercise their jaws on each other as Cubs players listen in silence. Plate umpire Jocko Conlon (left) races up the third base line loudly disputing a call by umpire Augie Donatelli in the fifth inning of the Chicago-St. Louis game Wednesday at Chicago. Cards' shortstop Bob Lillis singled to centerfield after pitcher Curt Simmons walked. When throw in bounced past third into Cubs' dugout Donatelli waved the sliding Simmons to the plate and Lillis to third. Conlon didn't see it that way and the ump engaged in a rhabarb with all the theatrics usually reserved for the umpire-player arguments. Who prevailed? Donatelli did. The run was allowed. 2 More Ends Join Geon On Ohio Roster

Two other valley gridders joined East Liverpool's Mike Geon on the list of ends for the Aug. 12 Ohio-West Virginia All-Star game at Wheeling.

Coach Don Ault of the Ohio team has added one of his own Bellaire stars to the roster in Dick Marinacci. Frank Vostatek of Yorkville is the other addition.

All three terminals go both ways. Marinacci hits the scales at 170 and has been recognized more for his defensive ability.

Vostatek was a football-basketball standout at Yorkville where he was a regular on the grid team for three years. Vostatek goes about 200 pounds.

BOSTON (AP)—Barring unforeseen developments, Floyd Patterson will defend his world heavyweight title against unbeaten Tom McNeely in Boston Oct. 23 despite the threat of NBA action against the champion.

The National Boxing Association has threatened to strip Patterson of his title if he defends against McNeely rather than one of the top-ranked challengers. McNeely, unbeaten in 23 bouts, is not ranked.

A giant step toward making the fight a reality was accomplished Wednesday when the Massachusetts Boxing Commission—not a member of the NBA—granted a promoter's license to Championship Sports Inc., and a matchmaker's license to Al Bolan.

Neither Patterson nor McNeely, from suburban Arlington, attended the three-minute meeting, and they have not yet signed the contracts for the fight.

Bolan, 32, however, said the signing is little more than a technicality.

"The contracts are in the hands

Needed A Few Runs
CINCINNATI (AP) — When Joe Jay lost his first three decisions for the Reds there was a good reason. His mates failed to score one run while he was on the mound. He then reeled off eight straight victories to put the Reds in first place in the National League.

Crucible Sends Midland Man To Plant In Italy

The Crucible Steel Co. said today Albert A. Masters, 536 Beaver Ave., Midland, has left for Italy to serve the Acciaierie Crucibile Vanzetti Plant near Milan as a consultant in the establishment of production and accounting control systems and inventory controls.

Masters' wife and their four children will sail for Italy in August.

Masters has been employed at Crucible's Midland Works for many years in various accounting capacities. A native of Midland, he was graduated from Midland High School in 1936 and in 1948 received a bachelor of science degree in accounting from the University of Notre Dame.

During World War II, he served with the Army Air Corps in Egypt, North Africa, Italy, and South America and was discharged with the rank of second lieutenant.

Masters is a member and immediate past president of the Midland Lions Club and is associated with the 2376th Civil Affairs group of Farrell.

Gun Victim Plans For Utah Return Despite Memory

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Charles Boothroyd, 55, Rockville, Conn., leaves Utah with the haunting memory of murder—murder of the woman he planned to marry. But he wants to return.

"I do plan to come back again to Utah," he said when he was released from the hospital here Wednesday. "It is so beautiful here."

Boothroyd was shot twice in the head by a man he stopped to help on a lonely desert road July 4 near Moab in southeastern Utah.

The man tried to rob him, but ended up shooting Jeannette Sullivan, 41, also of Rockville, in the back of the head.

She died. He shot Boothroyd and left him for dead.

Mrs. Sullivan's daughter, Denise, 15, tried to drive off in their car, but the killer ran her down in his car and took her with him. Denise is presumed dead.

Barber Asks To Swap Haircuts For Denture

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Dale Gasper, 24, needs an upper dental plate and he wants to make a deal with some dentist.

He'll give a dentist two years of barber service in return for the chop.

Gasper said a dentist placed the cost of a plate at $150. He figures 52 haircuts, 52 tonic massages and 26 shampoos are worth $171.

"I've got four sons to feed," Gasper said Wednesday. "They're good eaters. The way our food bills run, it wouldn't be easy to scrape up $150. And I need those teeth now."

TV Trains Teen-Agers

Two TV-minded teen-agers, both 17, are being exposed to the rudiments of TV producing this summer as their prize for having written the "best" play outlined in a contest among high school students.

After two weeks of attendance at ABC headquarters in New York, the innocenters are undeniably hooked! Susan Brown, a self-admitted romanticist, now yearns to write TV shows about love and marriage.

David Gingold, who had intentions of studying medicine until two weeks ago, now wants to produce TV documentaries all over the world.

But two weeks with TV people has given young Gingold something other than a new goal.

He's also acquired, we fear, a not-unprejudiced opinion of what makes TV run.

"Besides observing the mechanics of TV production," said the young man, "we discuss things with the TV executives. The other day we kicked around the subject of why television is not as good as it should or could be. "Now I think I know. As it was explained to me, it's difficult to change the new. Costly, too! People in the business find it safer and, in the long run, cheaper, to go along with established formats, like Westerns and private eyes."

"I'm a neophyte, of course, and if I were in the business, I'd say let's take a chance on the new and unknown. But in all honesty, now that I know a little about the economics of the business, I'd probably produce Westerns and private eyes, too."

THE TEACHINGS of the "instructors" may prove questionable, but the young people's thoughts on TV have not been completely slanted. Both agree that modern-day television doesn't offer enough to the teen-ager.

"I realize, of course," said the pert Miss Brown, "that teen-agers' interests, besides being many and varied, change all the time. What a kid likes at 14, for instance, he might not like at 16."

"Know what I mean? There's no such thing as a typical teen-ager."

"Speaking for myself, however,

I'm a Rodgers and Hart fan and I'd like to have more musical programs on TV. I also like the situation comedies that have family appeal, such as 'Father Knows Best,' which enables teen-agers to see themselves in their own environment."

"Now that 'Father Knows Best' is off, I think 'The Donna Reed Show' is the best of the family shows."

YOUNG GINGOLD'S TV tastes run to music, documentaries and discussion shows, the kind of programs he would hope to produce for television one day, provided he doesn't change his mind by the time the course runs out on Labor Day.

So far, there's only one aspect of TV he dislikes—that it is a "rat race" business. He'll experience a little of that before the summer's end.

Told by ABC men that only one of the two prize-winning outlines will be produced on local TV in September, young Gingold remarked:

"Oh, oh, there's the 'rat race.' I hate that sort of thing. It tends to create an 'I can do anything better than you' atmosphere among people."

THE COLORFUL career of jockey Eddie Arcaro will be detailed Aug. 10 on "Summer Sports Spectacular."

"Maverick," which is described as an "adult Western," will have a toy sponsor in the fall. . .

9 Will Serve In New Social Security Unit

W. A. McCauley, director of the Youngstown District office of the Social Security Administration, said today the new Columbiana County agency planned in East Liverpool will employ at least nine persons.

William Mitchell, commissioner of Social Security, announced at Washington Wednesday that the East Liverpool office to serve the county would be opened in the near future.

The location will depend on a survey to be made by the General Services Administration for the Cleveland regional Social Security office.

McCauley, who said more than 10,600 residents of the county will be served by the local office, estimated the minimum employment at nine. The location will depend on the survey of available facilities.

This will be the county's first office. Population growth and other factors influenced the choice of East Liverpool for the new office.

Rookie Ken McBride of the Los Angeles Angels had an 11-14 record pitching for San Diego in 1960. He lost his only decision as a member of the Chicago White Sox.

Native Of Wellsville Promoted By Dravo

Elmer R. Dysert, a native of Wellsville, has been appointed superintendent of the Marietta pipe fabrication shop of the Dravo Corp. of Pittsburgh.

Dysert, a brother of Russell Dysert, 969 Main St., Wellsville, also a Dravo employee, joined the firm in 1941 as a welding instructor. During World War II, he was chief welding inspector at the company's Wilmington (Del.) shipyard and later a foreman at the Neville Island shipyard.

He was appointed a construction superintendent in 1946.

German Boy Is Guest

Introduced To Hot Dog

Dieter Bohm, 14, of near Stuttgart, Germany, was introduced to the hot dog for the first time Wednesday after enjoying his initial encounter with another American favorite—root beer float.

Young Dieter, who stands 5 feet 7, points to his hometown on the map of Germany in an atlas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hermann Bohm of Kirchheim Teck, near Stuttgart, and is spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Pepin of the Calcutta - Cannons Mill Rd. They met his family on a visit in Germany in 1957.

He arrived by jet plane in New York Saturday and spent the weekend there, leaving for the Greater Pittsburgh Airport on Monday, where he was greeted by the Pepins.

The boy's father, who operates a machine shop, is a business acquaintance of the Pepins' son, Fred. He is associated with the Beechcraft factory at Wichita, Kan., and it was through their son that the Pepins had the opportunity to meet the Bohm family.

Dieter will attend the Beaver Creek Presbyterian Camp at Grimms Bridge next week. Mrs. Pepin, a cook at the camp, has already registered the boy, who is looking forward to meeting boys and girls of his age group.

Root beer float is the refreshment he has enjoyed so far. The popular drink in Germany is apple juice he said. But he doesn't care for sweet corn.

After his first "hot dog" yesterday afternoon, he took in his first outdoor movie last night.

"Everything and everybody is wonderful," he said.

A ninth grader, he is studying mechanical engineering and languages. He already speaks English and French.

Following his visit here, he will go to Wichita to tour the Beechcraft plant then return to his native land.

100 At Outing Of Lisbon Clubs

LISBON — Some 110 attended the fifth annual inter-service club picnic Wednesday evening at Willow Grove Park. The Junior Chamber of Commerce was host. The Ruritan club won a plaque for attendance.

William Jones won the shooting and casting contest, George Berdine was in second in the shoot and Bruce Black in the casting.

Howard Adrian of Williamsport presented trick casting.

A buffet supper was served by the Jaycee women.

Richard Kuhns was chairman, assisted by Jack Hill. William

Stanley was in charge of the meal and Glenn Adams the entertainment. Kiwanis, Lions, Ruritan and Rotary members and Jaycees attended.

so much more ...

than medicine goes into each BLOOR PHARMACY PRESCRIPTION

All the years of study, experience, and dedicated skill of your Bloor pharmacist goes into your prescription—just as much as the actual physical ingredients. For we feel that there is something very special about each of our eight pharmacists. Each graduated from a top flight university with a fine record. Each has passed stiff Ohio State Board examinations for registration. Each continues to study, as he learns our new techniques which are organized to produce hundreds of individual prescriptions daily just a little more smoothly than seems possible.

And, make no mistake . . . these men are dedicated men. Their sense of accomplishment in being of very real, vital service to their friends and neighbors is an achievement that simply can't be measured by a monetary standard.

Like "Sterling" on silverware, the name BLOOR on prescribed medicine is a hallmark of quality guaranteeing the product it identifies. Bring your next prescription to your nearby Bloor Pharmacy with every assurance that you will receive the finest professional service.

Russia Labels Israeli Rocket As 'Anti-Arab'

MOSCOW (AP) —The Soviet armed forces paper Red Star charged today that Israel's recent launching of a scientific research rocket was part of a campaign of intimidation against the Arab states.

The paper said the rocket launching also was designed to "raise the flagging spirit of the Israeli population, which is disillusioned" with the policy of Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion's government. It claimed the launching was timed to influence the August election of a new Israeli Parliament.

GOP To Hear Tower

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Delegates to the Ohio League of Young Republicans convention Saturday night will hear a speech by John Tower, first Republican U.S. senator from Texas since Civil War reconstruction days.

It is claimed that a carrier pigeon can see for 150 miles in clear weather and that a grown bird is able to fly for 400 miles at top speed.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Occasionally when I went shopping I used to pick up a small item (often nothing I wanted or could use) and slip it into my purse or coat pocket.

I'm not a teen-ager, Ann, I'm a mother of grown children. I can afford to buy anything I want but the challenge of getting away with something for nothing was fun.

Last week I was caught and taken into the store manager's office. The item I had picked up was worth 26 cents. I wanted to die. I would gladly have paid 100 times the price if it hadn't happened—and I could easily have done so because I had $55 in my purse.

The manager was very nice. He told me he would not press charges but asked me not to come into his store again. I've been so depressed since this happened I feel like a worthless criminal. Can you help me?—THIEF.

Dear Friend: If this has been going on for years, you need professional help. People who steal things they neither need nor want are ill.

Only when you have a better understanding of the problem will you regain your self-respect. And the knowledge of why you behave as you did will help you to avoid slipping back into the old ways.

For The Girls

Dear Ann: I'll bet plenty of men clipped that column in which you suggested a doctor or a marriage counselor for the iceberg wife. Well, here's a little something for the girls to clip:

How can a man expect his wife to fall lovingly into his arms when he has spent the previous four hours ignoring her (while he watches TV) or belittling and criticizing her in front of the children?

I am married to a man who does both consistently. And in addition to this he takes a bath about once a week—if he feels like it.

So maybe he ought to see a doctor or a marriage counselor. I'll bet my bottom dollar that 95 per cent of the iceberg wives could be thawed out with a kind word, some consideration and a little soap and water.—UNAPRECEATED.

Social Climbers

Dear Ann: A certain couple in our crowd is notorious for social climbing. They never accept an invitation until the last second, which to me means only one thing—they are holding off to see if something better turns up.

This couple has a habit of leaving parties early to go to other parties. They think it's smart to say, "We can only stay a minute because we have two other stops to make."

I think this is an insult to the hostess. They imply that their presence is so desirable that they must favor the largest number with their fleeting presence.

How can a hostess protect herself against such phonies?—THE IN GROUP.

Dear In: A hostess can just not invite such people, or she can invite them at the last minute after the first string has had a chance to accept or decline.

I see nothing insulting about going to more than one party in an evening, but the hostesses should be told in advance.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

'We Love Our Wives'

Madison Ave. Disclaims Villain Picture Of Admen

By JOHN T. CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP)—Are advertising men lecherous, treacherous, bawdy villains—ingrates who sip martinis with shapely blondes while the supper grows cold on the family stove over in suburbia?

"No, no, no," the man in the gray flannel suit screamed back today. "If you think so you've been reading too many novels. We love our wives."

Madison Avenue made known its feeling in an article called "Do Ad Men Make Good Mates?" in the trade organ "Printers' Ink."

The article said 90 per cent of 383 advertising men surveyed felt their marriages were happy.

So modest were the replies, in fact, that only 10 per cent claimed they were excellent husbands. More than 70 per cent said they were good mates and 18 per cent called themselves fair partners.

More significant, perhaps, was the 31 per cent who indicated wistfully that they would like to be better mates.

A large number found their wives warm and considerate.

"My wife is afraid that job demands, such as customer entertainment, are likely to make me an alcoholic."

One member of what may very well be one of the world's most self-analytic businesses hinted maybe his own mate took those stories about advertising men too literally.

He reported he and his wife had a problem over her "suspicious of infidelity associated with travel and job hours."

Then really getting down to the heart of the matter—really running up the flag and saluting, so to speak—one adman confessed maybe things weren't all good, good, good for ad wives.

"We tend to marry more intelligent, better-educated women, confine them to a suburban Alcatraz to a life of penal servitude and then wonder why they are not deliriously happy."

Fleeing Suspect Shot By Cincinnati Officers

CINCINNATI (AP)—A safe-cracking suspect who ignored police orders to halt was cut down by police bullets Wednesday night as he tried to escape on foot.

John Emmons, 32, was taken to General Hospital where his condition was described as serious. He was struck in the chest and left arm pit.

Plainclothes detectives William Jenkins and Ernest Thompson recognized Emmons on the street near his home. They chased him on foot and finally fired at him.

A stock example of the longest Latin word appears in Shakespeare's "Love's Labour Lost." It is "honorificabilitudinitatibus."

3 More Selected For Beauty Title

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Judges at the International Beauty Congress made these selections Wednesday night as best-of-the-evening in three categories:

Evening Gown — Miss Iceland, Signun Ragnarsson.

Playsuit — Miss Spain, Carmen Cervera.

Native Costume and Best Speech—Miss Brazil, Vera Marie Bauner.

By tonight, when the 15 semi-finalists are named, each of the 52 contestants will have been judged in all three apparel categories.

Newspaper cameramen covering the beauty pageant selected Miss Holland as their favorite Wednesday night. They named 19-year-old Stanny Van Baer of Amsterdam Miss Photogenic. She's a brown-haired, brown-eyed beauty who appeared in an evening gown of classical lines.

The only flour that promises you

no more sifting

and better baking, too!

You need never sift again no matter what you bake, with Robin Hood Pre-sifted Flour. But that's not all. When you bake this new Robin Hood way you will actually get better baking. We have proved this in tests with hundreds and hundreds of women. Think of that—with Robin Hood, easier baking and better, more flavorful baking, too!

This famous 'no-sift' method was originated by Robin Hood Flour and introduced last January. It is the result of three years of research and consumer testing. Its basis is Robin Hood's unusually high quality and uniformity, and the fact that every bit of Robin Hood Flour is pre-sifted through micro-fine silk.

Try baking the wonderful Rita Martin Sunshine Cake shown here this easy, 'no-sift' way. Notice how much more delicious it tastes. And because of Robin Hood's High Protein Richness, it stays fresh longer, too.

Try Rita Martin's ROBIN HOOD SUNSHINE CAKE (This is a Robin Hood Pre-sifted Flour recipe)

8 egg whites 6 egg yolks 2 tbsp. cold water
3/4 tsp. cream of tartar 1/2 cup sugar 1 tsp. lemon
3/4 tsp. salt 1 cup ROBIN HOOD extract
1 cup sugar All-Purpose Flour 1 tsp. vanilla

BEAT ... egg whites until foamy. Add cream of tartar and salt and mix well.

ADD ... sugar gradually, continuing to beat until stiff peaks are formed.

LET ... meringue stand while preparing egg yolk mixture.

BEAT ... egg yolks until thick and light colored. Add sugar gradually and continue to beat until fluffy.

ADD ... flour (not sifted) alternately with water and flavorings, beginning and ending with flour.

FOLD ... in the egg white meringue.

POUR ... into ungreased 10-inch tube pan.

BAKE ... at 325° for 60-65 minutes.

FROST ... with fluffy white frosting and decorate with pineapple and cherries, or as desired.

*If you use ROBIN HOOD Pre-sifted Self-Rising Flour (sold in some sections of the country) omit salt.

Spoon Robin Hood Flour right from the bag into your measuring cup. You don't have to sift ever because Robin Hood Flour is already pre-sifted through micro-fine silk.

Just stir the other dry ingredients together with Robin Hood Flour to blend. You don't have to sift at this stage, either. Another step saved on your way to better, easier baking.

You will be delighted with the results you get. Not only does this new way of baking with Robin Hood, the pre-sifted flour, save time and trouble, but everything tastes better, too.

Presbyterian Women Elect Officers At Lisbon Meeting

Mrs. Paul T. Gerrard was elected to succeed Mrs. Victor Williams as president when the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church of Lisbon met Tuesday evening for a dessert event.

Others elected were Mrs. Gregg Ramsey, first vice president; Mrs. Donald Tanner, second vice president; Mrs. Forrest Lowry, third vice president; Mrs. Whitney Ingraham, secretary, and Mrs. John Rodu, treasurer.

Chairmen of Circles

Circle chairmen will be Mrs. Dean Boyd, Miss Ruth Bye, Mrs. Robert Gardner, Mrs. Dan Libby, Mrs. Dean Rose and Mrs. Kenneth Williams. Miss Clara McGee was named to the nominating committee.

The Martha Circle was hostess unit. New members of the association were honored. Miss Charlotte Childs, Miss Judy Ramsey and Mrs. Jeannie Wandle Smith were introduced.

Mrs. Victor Williams gave highlights of her recent trip to Purdue University for the national conference of Presbyterian Women.

Vocalist Gives Song

Miss Karen Riddle, accompanied by Mrs. Dallas Hepburn, sang "Will You Remember" (Romberg).

Mrs. Raney McCullough explained the purpose of the summer medical offering.

The program was concluded with a hymn.

Solomon Wabguru, a native of Kenya, Africa, was unable to attend as speaker.

Seventeen attended the meeting of the Cheerful Workers group Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Homer McPherson of E. Lincoln Way. Mrs. Clifford Aiken was co-hostess.

A coverish dinner was enjoyed at noon. Mrs. Homer Ferguson, president, presided for the afternoon program.

Retarded Aid Told

Mrs. Harold Martzoff, a guest, spoke on her work at the Retarded Children's School in Elkton.

The club will not meet in August but is making plans for a luncheon and tour Sept. 19.

The Eagles Auxiliary met Tuesday at the lodge home with Mrs. Grace Reisinger, president, in charge.

A report was received from the memorial foundation on the financial standing.

Two visitors from Salem, Mrs. Arthur Stark and Mrs. Sadie Doile, were present.

Games Follow Lunch

Lunch was served by the July committee, followed by 500 and games. Mrs. Bessie Smith and Mrs. Beverly North received prizes at cards and Mrs. Lorene Furrer and Mrs. Beulah Beiling at games.

Mrs. Mary K. Dailey and Mrs. Reisinger will serve as the August social committee.

Next meeting Aug. 8 will follow an officers' meeting at 7:30.

Twenty-five members and guests attended the meeting of the Silver Circle at the First Christian Church Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Fred Nicholson, president, presided.

A program was presented with solos, by Mrs. Robert Peterson and Mrs. Leland Adams, accompanied by Mrs. R. J. Welsh.

Readings Presented

Readings were given by Mrs. Dallas Clapsaddle and Mrs. Velva Allmon.

Chuckie Carter played a piano solo.

Mrs. William Rose, accompanied by Mrs. Allmon, sang two numbers and group singing was enjoyed while the committee, composed of Mrs. Allmon, Mrs.

Clyde Armstrong and Mrs. Bertha Lodge prepared lunch.

Mrs. Agnes Ford, VFW canteen chairman, said five men who left for the service Tuesday, were presented gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. George Yost of N. Market St. have returned after spending a day with their daughter, Miss Ariel Yost, in Cleveland.

Cleveland Youth Dies After Cycle Hits Auto

CLEVELAND (AP) — Thomas W. Clark, 19, died early today of injuries suffered when his motorcycle and a car collided in suburban Cleveland Heights Wednesday.

Police said a car driven by Mrs. F. Peter Gauntner, 33, cut in front of the oncoming motorcycle at an intersection. Clark was unable to stop and rammed into the car, they reported.

Mrs. Gauntner was charged with failing to yield the right of way. Police Capt. Charles L. Ruff, said.

Record Budget Eyed

CLEVELAND (AP) — A proposed record $78,469,068 budget goes to Cuyahoga County commissioners today. The budget is $3,995,402 higher than 1961 revised appropriations.

An entirely new concept in styling makes the Converta-Cart a versatile household item, quickly converting from a handy tray table rack into a smart serving cart. For informal luncheons or snacks, this distinguished Converta-Cart by Quaker is certain to win plaudits for any smart hostess. As an extra table, it moves from living room to recreation room to patio with ease. Fits the decor of any home, while it saves hostess steps. Becomes an "addition" not an "extra". The Converta-Cart top measures 21"x17". Stands conveniently at 20". The deep warm walnut top suits any surroundings. The surface is a genuine laminated armor coated plastic finish. Unharmed by alcohol, fruit acids, household alkalis. Will not crack or craze. Open or closed, the Converta-Cart's graceful contoured shape, grained walnut handle and four golden plastic wheels allows easy mobility. It wheels anywhere. It's stain proof and easy to clean. Used as a rack, its slim, vertical styling saves space. Quickly folds to hold trays.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

'Crybabies' Resent Being Punished

Often you read about children resenting punishment. I doubt whether any child whose parents are fair and just, consistent and decisive with punishment, feels strong resentment over being punished. Of course, if one child feels he does not stand as well in the family as a brother or sister, Dr. Garry Meyers ter, feels jealousy, he may resent punishment. Even then it was not the punishment itself which aroused his resentment, but its implication. Of her two children a mother writes from New Jersey:

"OUR MANNER of discipline must be very wrong somewhere, because when our children, three and five, need correcting, we first

I'M SURE YOU parents are not consistent with yourselves or with each other in disciplining those children. You say No 20 times and wait until you get good and mad before you act.

Sit down with Dad and try to agree on a few things these youngsters must never do, which you can check on with your eyes and ears and on the exact way each of you will administer the punishment. Then the moment either child does the forbidden thing, smack him soundly and be sure it really hurts.

Say No just once in a moderate tone, as information. There's no reason to repeat this word or to shout or shriek it.

After each child has learned to respect this word and to stay where put, you can abandon spanking and instead require the offender to sit, unamused, where you can see him, for exactly 20 minutes. If he leaves the chair too soon, spank or paddle him soundly.

IF THESE CHILDREN show resentment after punishment or say you have been mean to them, answer not a word and don't feel sorry. Aim to make them feel sorry for their disobedience.

After you get a few such things settled, you and they will annoy each other less and have more and more time for mutual fun and enjoyment.

Try hard to prove to each child he's loved as much as the other. Try to help each one cultivate playmates of his own age.

My bulletins, "How to Teach Child Meaning of No" and "Preventing and Reducing Jealousy," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Racial Feud Shots Injure 2 In Virginia

By The Associated Press

A smoldering feud between rival gangs of white and Negro youths at Blackstone, Va., exploded into violence as two white teen-agers were wounded by shot gun pellets.

The youths were wounded on Wednesday night when Negroes fired a shotgun into a milling crowd made up of the two gangs. Police Chief Bruce Farley said they were not seriously hurt.

Farley said the feud had been brewing for two or three nights. Wednesday night the Negroes sent two small boys to tell the white youths they were ready to fight. The chief said 51 white boys piled into three cars and met the Negroes near the center of Blackstone.

The Volunteer Fire Department heard the melee and rushed to join police in breaking up the riot. State Police said the firemen turned hoses on the youths to disperse them. No arrests were made.

At Richmond, Va., a federal judge said Wednesday it would be up to the Virginia Supreme Court to determine whether the Prince Edward County public schools were closed in violation of the state's constitution.

Judge Oren R. Lewis said he was not going to require the reopening of the county's schools, closed two years ago to avoid racial integration.

Lewis' comments came in the third day of a hearing as attorneys for the Negro plaintiffs and the Prince Edward School Board summarized before the judge arguments in a court case testing the legality of the school closures.

At Washington, Justice Hugo L. Black turned down a bid to win release of a "Freedom Rider" from a Mississippi prison. The habeas corpus action was brought on behalf of Elizabeth Porter Wyckoff, 45, of New York City, who contended her conviction was unconstitutional and invalid.

In a brief opinion, Black said there was not enough evidence to show that all state legal processes had been exhausted. Miss Wyckoff was arrested last month in Jackson, Miss., when she joined a group of other Freedom Riders in an attempt to enter areas of a bus terminal designated for white persons.

City Youth Promoted With Marine Group

Richard L. Landis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Landis, 1157 Lisbon St., has been promoted to corporal with the First Marine Corps Reserve and Recruitment District at Garden City, N. Y.

Before joining the Marines in October 1958, he was graduated from East Liverpool High School and was employed by J. C. Penney & Co.

Cpl. Landis served on Okinawa and was at the Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, N.C. The Headquarters to which Cpl. Landis is now attached controls and co-ordinates all Marine Corps Reserve and recruiting activities in New England, New York and Northern New Jersey.

State Doctor Named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Winslow Bashe Jr. of Columbus, chief of the state health department's communicable diseases division, today became head of the department's bureau of direct services. He will continue as communicable diseases division head.

Clothing Figure Dies

ODEN, Mich. (AP) — Felix S. Mayer, 69, board chairman of two of the nation's largest men's clothing manufacturing firms, died Tuesday at his vacation home in Oden. As head of Joseph and Feiss Co., Cleveland, and Michaels Stern and Co., Rochester, N. Y., Mayer controlled more clothing production than any other individual in the industry. He was born in Cincinnati.

2 Patients Caught

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police early today caught two mental patients who escaped from Rollman Receiving Hospital late Wednesday night. They were not identified.

9 Enter Land In Soil Group

LISBON — The Board of Supervisors of the Columbiana County Soil Conservation District Tuesday approved nine more co-operators with a total of 616 acres in the county program.

The following land owners were enrolled:

James Skeels, Lisbon R.D. 4, 136 acres in Center Township; William Skeels, Lisbon R.D. 4, 108 acres in Salem Township; C. F. Ellyson, East Rochester R.D. 1, 130 acres in Hanover Township; Gilbert S. Ingram, Negley R.D. 1, 79 acres in Middleton Township; Albert M. Bush, Negley R.D. 1, 35 acres in Middleton Township; Lester Sanor, Homeworth R.D. 1, 43 acres in Knox Township; Julia Chuey, Lisbon R.D. 1, 40 acres in Wayne Township; Robert H. Weingart, Salem R.D. 4, 26 acres in Perry Township; and Earl E. Sanor, Homeworth 4 acres in Knox Township.

Two board members gave reports, Dawson Irey on a Coshocton trip and Art Rudebocher on the recent farm pond tour.

Plans for the supervisors school at Columbus Aug. 15-17 were discussed and some of the county supervisors are expected to attend.

Tempers Tangle Over Tempos In Opera Squabble

VERONA, Italy (AP) — Hand-sonic tenor Franco Corelli was contrite today about his victory over U.S. conductor Fabien Sevitzky in Italy's latest operatic squabble.

"It's all the fault of my cursed temperament," said Corelli, whose 6-foot-plus of dark, good looks and ringing voice have made him a mainstay in Italy and New York and whose temper is one of the opera world's quickest.

Sevitzky, 68, longtime conductor of the Indianapolis Symphony, clashed with Corelli and several other singers Tuesday night during a rehearsal of Bizet's "Carmen" for Verona's annual outdoor opera season.

The conductor said he had "a disagreement with several artists concerning the tempo and general execution of the opera." The aria, complained Sevitzky, was taking time too slow and walked off the stage after an exchange of words with the conductor.

Officials of the opera company tried to mediate but Sevitzky refused to continue. Italian maestro Francesco Molinari-Pradelli was engaged to conduct the performance tonight — with Corelli still in the cast as Don Jose.

Castro Imposes Rationing Of Fat, U.S. Given Blame

HAVANA (AP)—The key word in Cuba today is "manteca." Translated from the Spanish it means lard, or fats.

Manteca—or lack of it — has presented Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime with a sticky problem. For the first time in its 2½-year history, the regime has had to impose rationing.

Families are restricted to one pound of lard and one pound of cooking oil monthly for each person above the age of one year. This is going to hurt. Cubans normally consume an extraordinarily large amount of fat.

The government places the blame on "American economic aggression" for the present embarrassing situation, claiming the United States is maintaining an unannounced embargo against exports of lard to Cuba. The United States has traditionally been the sole supplier of Cuba, selling this country 98,000 tons a year.

Shipments of lard from the United States have ceased or practically ceased. Some, however, suspect that Cuba's dollar shortage may have as much to do with this as any real or imagined embargo.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Social Affairs Can Be Fun, Not Fattening

If social affairs upset your slimming plans, take some mental gymnastics and again leap over the wall of habit. You will find it unexpectedly helpful to make advance decisions and picture the way you wish to cope in a given situation. This is termed a "mind set."

It can work like a miracle. Now the mind set: You are going to enjoy the food at a party, but not overeat. Let's say you're at a small luncheon, supper, or dinner party. When the hostess has paid you the compliment of preparing a delicious meal, you do have an obligation to show appreciation.

But get over the outmoded notion that it is impolite to say, "No, thank you," to seconds, to hot rolls and jelly, and that you must eat all of the dessert. The modern hostess has been conditioned on the calorie score.

DO YOU REALLY want to be able to eat less at social affairs? Or do you take advantage of the chance to indulge in fattening fare? Don't kid yourself.

If you plaintively say, when offered more food, "I really shouldn't eat this, it's too fattening," recognized that that stock phrase is almost a plea for your hostess to urge you to partake. This is a common device used to get approval. Recognize that you are deceiving yourself and asking your friends to reinforce the deception.

When you are invited to a friend's home for dinner, in accepting the invitation, let the hostess know you are slimming so she will understand when you do not take the 400-calorie dessert. Today's hostess is definitely understanding. When the meal is served buffet style, there is no need to explain your small servings.

Usually, it's better not to talk about the 2 pounds you lost last week, but, should the conversation turn to reducing as it often does, and someone asks if you're dieting — be enthusiastic. It's amazing how an enthusiastic attitude can buoy up your spirits. Yes, you're aiming to be a size slimmer. You feel lighter already, and it's wonderful. Come to think about it — it really is!

Your willingness to make advance decisions is proof of your intentions. When you decide in advance how you wish to act, you carry this "set" with you. It's there, ready to work for you. This is the essence of a built-in slimming system.
